BY WAY OF EXPLANATION

Looking back is always a dangerous game. History has no set rules, even the history of football, and the record book is the chief official in checking the accuracy of what is remembered about something that happened years ago. A great run, an amazing openfield tackle, the heroic goal-line stand, an impossible catch of a forward pass -- all these are not always reported in the record books, and there are no game films of some of the super contests of past years which can be used to stir the memory or to check on how somebody remembers those events.

This Yearbook is an attempt to put together the bits and pieces of the history of football at Lewisburg Area High School. It is not perfect. It does not contain all the statistics. It does not record all the highlights of the 70 big years we have tried to cover -- from 1905 to 1975. In fact, there are few, if any, "official" records of the early years, and the task of establishing football as a high school sport appears to have proceeded in a series of "fits and starts." Organized formally in 1914, high school teams played through the 1919 season -- a great year at L.H.S. Then, for what reason we do not exactly know, football is "dropped" until 1924, when things got organized fairly late in the season. L.H.S. fielded a team in 1925, dropped it from 1926-28, and returned to the gridiron from 1929-31, when football yielded to soccer as the major fall sport. In 1945, football reappeared at Lewisburg, and the Green Dragons have established remarkable records in the past three decades on the gridiron.

Given such shortcomings, this Football Yearbook, the first compiled at Lewisburg High, does try to present the idea that what happened in 1974 on the gridiron started many years ago when a group of young men decided they wanted to test their skills and ambitions in a game called football. They started a tradition to which many young men have contributed in the decades that followed.

To help us reconstruct the past, we have asked those who helped to organize the teams, those who coached, and those who played in all these years, to open up their memories of the "golden days" of the Green Dragons for the players, coaches, and fans of the modern era.

We hope you enjoy each and every year.

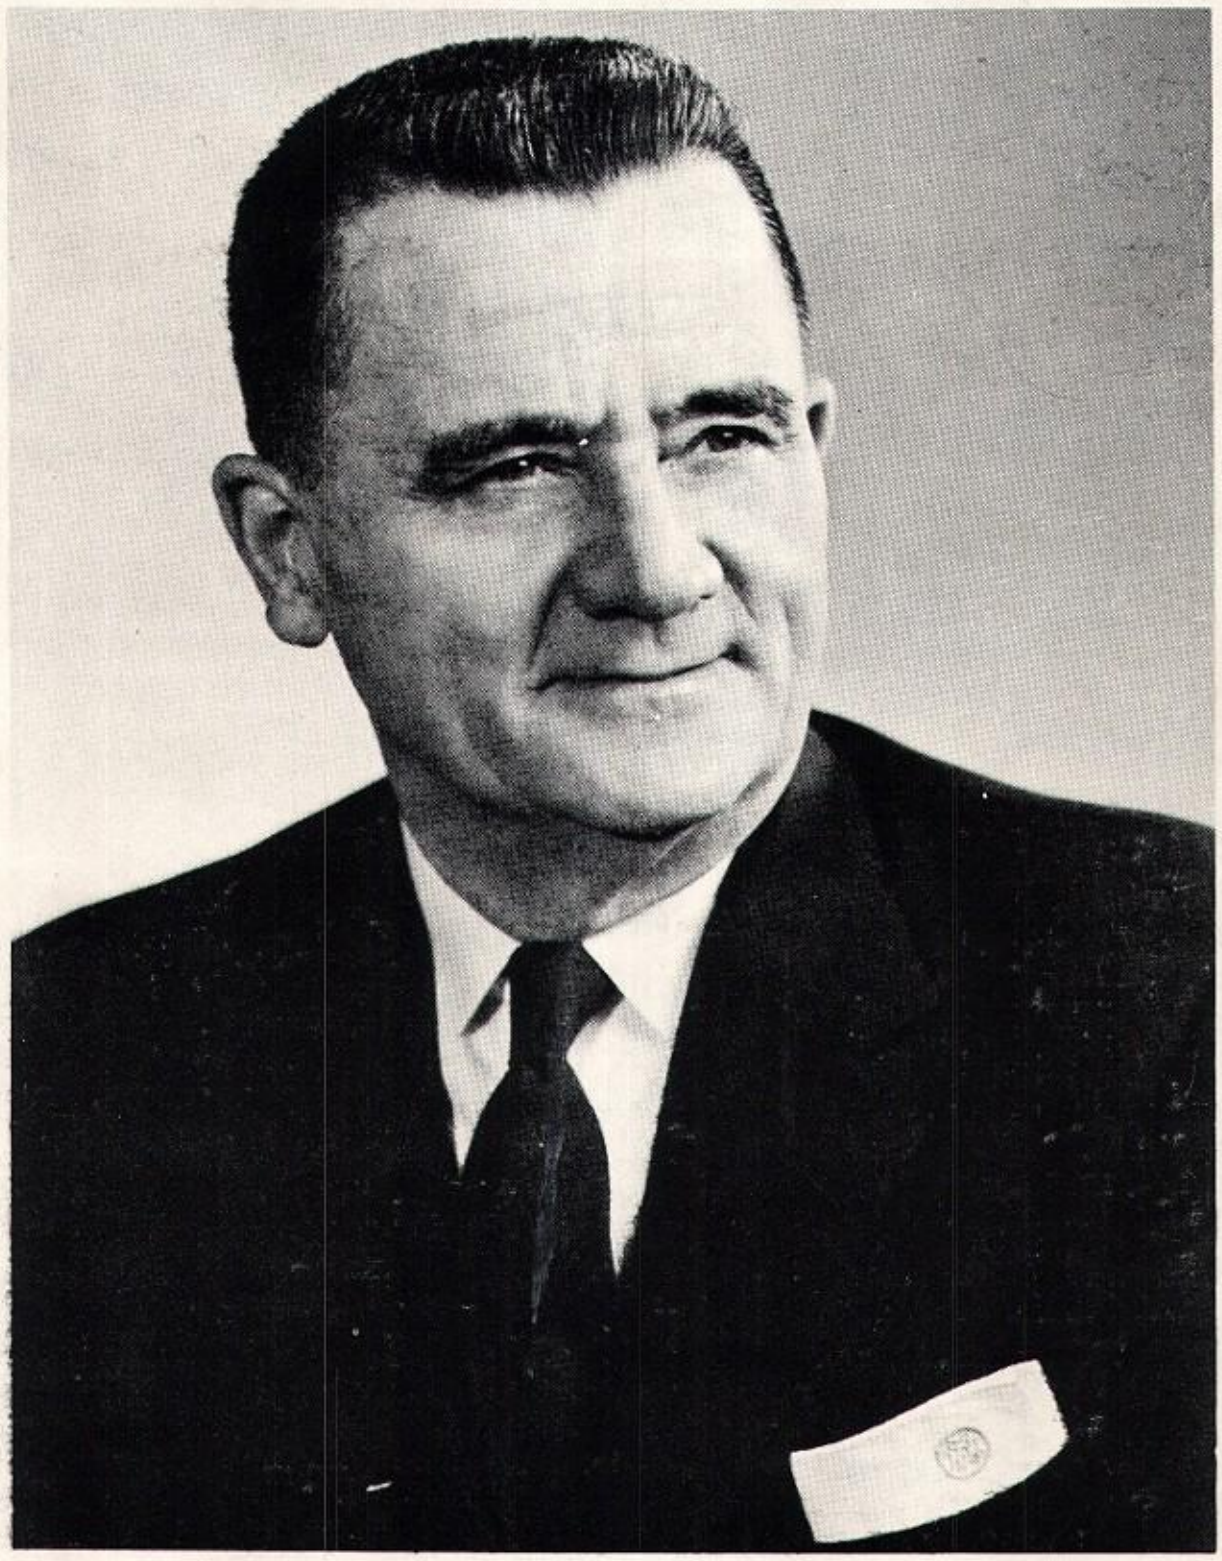
In Dedication

In memory of one of the finest teachers to have taught in Lewisburg High School, the Class of 1974 dedicates this Oneida to Mr. Richard Abbott. His untimely death magnified the rare qualities he possessed, both as a teacher and as a friend. He offered a genuine gift of compassion to all he knew, and to strangers, a friendly smile. Those of us who had the privilege to work with Mr. Abbott will hopefully find some of his ideals influencing our lives. Memories are precious, but if we do not learn from them, we advance nowhere. To dedicate a book to such a man as Mr. Abbott is easy, but to dedicate one's life to his principles expresses sincere respect.

DEDICATED TO A MAN OF MANY SEASONS

Sid Thomas



Sid Thomas has been a part of the Green Dragons on and off the gridiron since 1918, more than a half century. He is a gentleman and a true sportsman, and we hope this small honor indicates how much gratitude and respect so many players, coaches and fans have for him.

Football at Lewisburg High School was first sanctioned by the school administration in 1914.

But there were Lewisburg teams as early as 1905, teams not truly representative of the high school in an era before P.I.A.A., established rules, conferences, and all the formal organization that makes scholastic athletics tick today.

Maybe it was more fun in those days. Ceratinly is was less formal, sort of a "pick-up a team and let's play" world of the sandlot variety.

What about 1905? Well, that was the year when Theodore Roosevelt was inaugurated as President of the United States, with Charles W. Fairbanks as Vice President. That same year, the first Rotary Club was founded in Chicago by Paul H. Harris. And, in case you have forgotten, Lee DeForest was working on the vacuum tube which was to make possible a thing called radio. Meantime, back in Lewisburg, some young men were trying to make football possible in their home town.

The game played that year by a mix of town boys and high school athletes was closer to rugby than the football game as we know it. The ball was bigger, the equipment less than desired, and the action rugged. Unfortunately, there were no official scorers in those days, and most of the action went unrecorded or appeared only as a brief report in the local weekly newspapers.

During the summer of 1914, a group of Lewisburg High School boys, who liked the game and wanted to play, canvassed the merchants of town to ask for financial help to buy needed equipment. Since only enough funds were collected to buy balls, the boys had to furnish their own equipment. About 20 boys reported for the first practice, which was held on the former municipal playground, across the Buffalo Creek bridge. During the 1914 season, three games were played -- two with Bucknell Academy and one against a fraternity team. All those who participated were high school boys, mostly sophomores and juniors.

The seasons of 1915 and 1916 showed a little more progress, both in the interest of the boys and the general public, but the team did not get any financial support from the school board. To make a better appearance on the field, squad members bought white sweatshirts and had their mothers sew green piping around the neck and down the front. Two away games were played in 1915 -- against Northumberland and against Dickinson Seminary in Williamsport. Starting with the 1916 season, more boys came out for the team and more games were scheduled. Because so few nearby towns had football teams, the schedule had to include teams from more distant communities. Thus games were played with such high schools as Lock Haven and State College, and included two games per season with Dickinson Seminary, now Lycoming College. No games were scheduled in 1918 since some of the key players had enlisted in the army when World War I broke upon us. However, 1919 was a banner year. The schedule was enlarged to include Williamsport High School and Sunbury High School.

At the close of school in June, 1917, the football squad met and decided each would strive to save enough money out of his summer earnings to buy regular football jerseys in the fall. Not only did the team appear for the 1917 season in all-green jerseys, but also the outfits included green and white stockings. School colors were worn with pride.

The '14 and '15 teams did not have a regular coach. The boys would get together and make up their own plays and the captain of the team would assume the responsibility of a coach. Then, in 1916, Dr. Malcolm Musser, who was then a Bucknell student, became the "unofficial" coach and gave the teams the inspiration and leadership they needed.

Football continued for a few more years until soccer took its place as a fall sport. In a few years, football was reinstated and "Mose" Quinn, a former Bucknell quarterback, was hired by the administration as the first paid football coach at L.H.S.

It is interesting to note that, although only 16 boys signed up for the football team in 1914 and that very little publicity was given to high school football, each succeeding year saw more and more boys signing up for the sport. Few of us who played on those early formative teams little realized that football at Lewisburg High School would attain the popularity it now has, nor that it would become as successful as it has under the present system.

CHAMPIONS

as told to the Editors

"Our 1919 championship team had 13 players, and our two subs had to be able to play all positions," Skeet Smith recalls. Now retired after 32 years with the Ford Motor Company, Skeet was the powerhouse fullback of the Green Dragons.

"What we lacked in quantity, we tried to make up in the quality of our game," Skeet noted. "Of course, it didn't take a bus to transport us to the away games. On our schedule were Lock Haven, Sunbury, Shamokin, Bellefonte, and two games against Williamsport and Dickinson Seminary, which is now Lycoming College. They were all tough battles, but the game of games that year was a return match, a Thanksgiving Day affair at Williamsport. We played to a tie earlier in the season, and Williamsport issued a challenge to Lewisburg to play for the championship, guaranteeing $200 for expenses," Skeet recalled.

"The coach of Williamsport was Bart Bartholme, a former star end at Bucknell. Our unofficial coach, Mal Musser, and that great trainer, Sid Thomas, kept our spirits and our muscles in tune for the game, which we won," the former star fullback noted. "What I would like to see is for some one to honor both of those fine men, still residing in the Lewisburg area, for their many contributions to their alma mater, Lewisburg High School. In fact, one of my best memories is that of Sid carrying his little black bag in which he always had a bottle of White Horse linament."

As Donald Johnson, quarterback and team captain notes: "Our principal formation was the single wing, but we also used the straight T which, may I add, was long before it became a popular college and pro formation. We also used to great effect a wide or spread formation. We called it formation F, and we used it to run and to execute both forward and lateral passes."

Observing that credit should be given to Bucknell for granting to the high school free of charge the use of Tustin gym and the football field, Don said that "we couldn't have played our home games without that help. In fact, we coached ourselves and used much of the Bucknell offense and defense which we observed as young fellows growing up in Lewisburg. Dean Mal Musser and Harry Bourne, our high school principal, also gave us advice and traveled with us to all our away games."

Now an attorney with his residence in Philadelphia, the former quarterback's son, Donald "Dee" Jr., was a star running back at Lewisburg High in the '51, '52 and '53 seasons, scoring a record 29 points in one game against Milton High. Don Jr. later became the most valuable player at the University of South Carolina, in 1957, where he played under one of his dad's teammates, Max Reed, one of the greatest players from the Lewisburg area.

"We had to travel by train for away games," Attorney Johnson recalls, "and we usually had to play not only the opposing team, but the officials and the crowd. This was especially true in Williamsport and Shamokin."

Recalling the 'game of games" that year in Williamsport, Skeet Smith asked us to "picture our squad, all 13 of us, with no band and only several devoted fans who accompanied us on the train and then sat on the bench to help fill it up. However, all the players had only one purpose in mind: 'Beat Williamsport!'"

As Skeet remembers: "We played straight football in that game, with very little passing. We just waited for a break. It came in the fourth quarter when they had to punt from behind their own goal line. Our brilliant center, Max Reed, crashed through the line, blocked the punt, and fell on the ball for a score. We won 6-0"

Both Skeet and Don had high praise for the business and professional men in town who donated funds to equip the squad. "Congressman Ben Focht and Attorney Andrew Leiser each gave $10, a big amount in those days, to start the fund," Attorney Johnson recalls. "We raised $200 and Billy Donehower sold us 13 complete uniforms and one football, a football we used throughout the season for practice and for play."

Both men noted that the team members, with a little help, rigged up a shower in the high school basement, a shower which was connected to the cold water pipe only. "Nobody hung around in that shower for too long," the former team captain stressed.

Who were the members of this "small but mighty" band that won the first championship for L.H.S.? We list them here with comments of Skeet Smith and Don Johnson:

MAX REED: Now deceased; the center of the squad who had a brilliant career as a player and coach. Carl Snavely called him "one of the greatest football minds in the nation." Max coached at Bucknell, Cornell, and the University of North Carolina under Snavely. He later was line coach at the University of South Carolina and for the Washington Redskins.

DAVIS ARNOLD: Now deceased; tackle on the the squad, he served as a civil engineer with the Pennsylvania Department of Highways.

WILLIAM DUCK: Now deceased; a really fine end and a man of high intelligence, he served as Dean at Gettysburg College.

GORDON SCHOLL: Now deceased; a tough-nosed guard, he operated a successful florist business in Florida.

HAROLD PAINTER: Now deceased; the versatile man who played all positions as a substitute, he served for many years as manager of the Reading Office for Bell Telephone.

LEISER EISENHOWER: Now deceased; our other crashing tackle, he was a high school principal for over 30 years. His son, Marine Lt. Col. Steve Eisenhower, was team captain and an All-American at the U.S. Naval Academy.

ALBERT JOHNSON, JR.: One of the ends on our team who is now a practicing attorney in Roaring Spring, Pa.

ROBERT HEIM: The flashy halfback of the team is now retired from a successful career in investment banking. He now resides in Briarcliff Manor, N.Y.

DALE WAGNER: The second speedy halfback is now retired from his teaching career and resides in Owensboro, Kentucky.

GLENN MORROW: Our second all-position substitute now resides in Lewisburg. He is retired after a successful career in electrical engineering.

LUTHER BINGAMAN: The other hard-hitting guard is now retired and living in Endicott, N.Y.

FULLBACK: Skeet Smith

QUARTERBACK AND CAPTAIN: Donald Johnson, who also played one year of pro ball in Millville, N.J.

A BRIEF INTERLUDE ...1924-1925

No records of L.H.S. teams from 1920 to 1923 could be found, but football was on the scene in 1924 and 1925.

As the Saturday News reported on November 8, 1924: "Lewisburg boys deserve much credit because they have been without a coach or equipment the greater part of this season."

The 1924 team defeated the Milton junior varsity (or "Second team") by a 19-0 score. They lost to Picture Rocks, 12-0; to Sunbury, 47-0; and to Lewistown, 53-0.

Team Captain was Charles W. Kalp, a halfback. Other backs included Paul Johnson, Milton Wagner, R. Henry Coleman, and Burtoff Koser. Ends were Bill O'Brien and Raymond Pearson; and the linemen included Warren Sherman, H. John Stahl, Harry Stahl, Thomas Zeiber, Charles Liddich, Charles Lewis, Willard Poeth, Floyd Kline, Edward Kleckner, and Orvis Campbell.

Bill O'Brien was elected captain of the 1925 team, which posted a 2-6 record. The Green Dragons defeated Watsontown and St. Joseph's (Ashland), but lost the rest. This was only their second season after a lapse of several years, and inexperience took its toll.

Some interesting data uncovered during our research: the Picture Rocks team outweighed the Dragons by 25 lbs. per man; and the Milton game was the highlight of the season, being played on a snow-covered field on Thanksgiving.

Seniors on the 1925 squad were Bill O'Brien, Paul Johnson, Clifford Leitzel, Walter Angstadt, and Robert Krebs.

One More Go At the Gridiron

1929-1931

by Coach H. A. Troutman

As near as I can determine, there had not been a football team since 1925, four years previous to the 1929 season. A group of citizens, some of them parents, some alumni and a devoted, loyal group of L.H.S. boys, together with Professor H.E. Stover, our Supervising Principal, urged me to field a team.

Professor Stover, members of the school board, Professor H. U. Heckart, Director of Athletics, all told me there were no funds available to field a team. Mr. Heckart informed me that there were some old uniforms and shoes in the basement of the South Ward Shool. The new High School gym was not yet completed, and we had no playing field of our own.

I recieved $50.00 per season as coach. Needless to say, it never found a place in my pocket. I simply carried it from the Lewisburg Bank to W.L. Donehowers for football equipment. Since I may forget the names of all those who deserve thanks for their aid, our Boosters, let me just note there were many helping hands. They included the blacksmith, the shoe repair man, the tailor, the merchants, and post office employees.

The first year was the tough one. John Plant and Malcolm Musser made Tustin gymnasium and Tustin field available to us. Later, we used the present Bucknell University practice field. Bucknell University was very kind to us. There were many things to plan and provide for in addition to the coachingjob. However, I had good support and willing hands to help me.

John Stahl and Mose Quinn, both Bucknellians, were very capable and helped develop good teams. They were instrumental in getting equipment that was no longer used by Coach Snavely in the years that he had top-flight teams at Bucknell. We owed many thanks to all these donors.

Mose Quinn was a senior at Bucknell, hoping to become a high school football coach. Experience, he figured, was the best teacher.

John Stahl and Mose were very cooperative, despite the fact that I was from Penn State. The two schools were great rivals, and Bucknell, in those years, beat Penn State quite often. John and Mose knew the game, and we had lots of fun working out the plays for a group of talented boys. I believe that we made the most of the short time we had to explore talent and to build plays around that talent. The boys of the L.H.S. were bright, spirited kids. They took coaching well and produced accordingly. All the teams we played had much more experience, but they did not have anymore determination or will to practice the "charge and pursue" type of football I was taught under Hugo Bezdek, and which Quinn learned under Coach Snavely. There really were no bench warmers on our team. All the boys had a lot of ability and produced when called on to do so.

Our equipment was poor and always needed a lot of repairs. Our managers must deserve great credit. They worked long hours cleaning, repairing and delivering, and our teachers showed great patience by releasing them to do chores for the sake of football. Yes, there still are a few of us "young" folks around - the teachers of that era.

Every sportsman has his favorite stories. So does the football coach. I shall tell only three stories of the many that come to mind, dedicated to the boys and coaches of the L.H.S.

The first one has to do with the games we had with the Howard High School team in Center County, an area where good quality bricks were made, and where many of their boys worked during the summer vacation. However, they produced even better football players. That was one team we could never defeat. They were big hard-hitting boys. However, after the game was over, they showed their hospitality by treating us to a chicken and waffle dinner at a local church. All for free. Can anyone beat that? Let's bring back some of that spirit.

We started home by the way of Williamsport. We got to the middle of a long hill south of Muncy. Oscar Liddick, in his bus, (it was the vehicle we generally used to go to our "away" games) cried: "Out of gas!" The bus had stopped. We all climbed out of the bus, pushed it up over the hill, climbed back into it again and coasted down to Mohrs Park gas station. It was getting late, but the attendant filled the gas tank and we arrived home at a late hour.

Another "away" game was played at Picture Rocks on a very cold afternoon. After the game was scheduled, we heard about a monster team up there which would destroy us. Jules Priest, a Bucknell player, gave us this advance information. They were mostly farm boys and worked on lumber tracts. Their field was rough and had quite a slope at one end, toward the goal post. We prepared our team in advance. Speed, sure tackling and sharp blocking must prevail. The boys, through fear, daring and team spirit did just that. They brought home the bacon, 13-7. The borough fathers breathed more easily after that one. The boys had really proven themselves a solid team.

The last episode I wish to tell about was a game played with the Susquehanna University Junior Varsity. We had played them in a 0-0-tie game at the beginning of the season. They asked for a return game near the end of the season. It was played on the Bucknell practice field on a very cold day. Their team was much improved. Likewise, our team had also improved and had gained real confidence.

In studying their defense in the first half, which ended in no score, we noticed their left end and tackle were far out of position when we were in an unbalanced line left on the offense. Mose Quinn set up a special play formation between halves, drawing both guards on a reverse. We used the play twice and scored two touchdowns. We had two fast halfbacks and they carried the mail. The final score was 14-0 L.H.S. The team had come far. They knew the game and disciplined themselves. I will not name the players, but our center did his job well, along with two guards to make the play work. All the players had filled their assignments.

Finally, I have a kind of last word. Coaches John Stahl and Mose Quinn, as well as some of the players, are no longer with us. To the last man, they were a great group of kids. When you look at each one in the picture, you can bet they had what it took to make a good team.

L.H.S. got a full time physical education program the next year, and a better football program was in the making.

We had a lot of fun on a "shoe string" sort of opportunity.

Following a lapse of 15 years, Lewisburg finally re-opened the sport of football. Through the efforts of Sid Thomas and several other members of the community, money was raised to purchase uniforms for the team.

Denver Dyer coached the Dragons, who finished with a 2-1 record. The Dragons beat Montgomery and Canton, but lost a close contest to Muncy.

Lewisburg finished a very successful second season on the gridiron, after almost a quarter century absence from football.

Coaches Denver Dyer and Joe Diblin issued the first call to practice on August 19, which was answered by about 50 fighting but comparatively green fellows. The job cut out for the coaches was to mold a team from this squad.

The Dragons conquered in five games and were subdued twice. In the first game of the season the Dragons easily trimmed Mifflinburg, but fell before the onslaught of Northumberland and Montgomery teams. The team won all of the remaining games on its schedule, and only hard work by both the team and the coaches attributed to the successful season.

The Dragon eleven, under its new coach, Joe Diblin, had a successful season. About 40 boys reported for the first practice session around the middle of August.

The Dragons won four games and lost three. Lewisburg lost the first game of the season to Danville, but retained the Brown Jug by defeating Mifflinburg in the second game. Northumberland convincingly defeated the Dragons, but the boys bounced back with a win over Montgomery. After losing to Selinsgrove, Lewisburg defeated Carson Long Military Institute, and tramped over Trevorton by a decisive margin.

The 1950 Lewisburg High School football team came through the season with a record of four wins and five losses. Seven of the nine games, Selinsgrove and Bellefonte being the two exceptions, were close, hard fought encounters which could have gone either way.

Probably the highlight of the campaign was the 7-6 upset of the highly regarded Milton Panthers. The following game was a heart-breaking 19-13 defeat at the hands of Northumberland. After this game the Dragons suffered heavily from injuries to key players for the remainder of the season.

After the final game coach Andy Sember said farewell to seniors Troutman, Mathews, Jurst, Berger, Flick, Libby, Hoffman, L. Sauers, V. Sauers, Deans, Bowersox and Johnson.

Handicapped by lack of experience, the Green Dragons of Coach Andrew Sember were able to win only two games during the 1951 season. The Green and White, however, had no reason to feel ashamed of their performance, for several games on their nine-game schedule could easily have gone the other way.

Lewisburg dropped closely-contested decisions to Trevorton, Bellefonte, Watsontown, and Selinsgrove. Probably the most exciting game of the season was the Bellefonte game. Entering the fray as underdogs by four touchdowns, the Green and White gave their opponents a real battle before losing by one point.

The varsity football squad overcame early season reverses to end the season with five victories and five defeats. The Watsontown tilt was closely matched, the Huskies winning the decision by three points. Only in the games with Milton, Northumberland, and Danville were the green Dragons completely outplayed.

The 1953 Season

The 1953 season saw one of the greatest aggregations that ever represented Lewisburg on the gridiron. After losing the opening game to Bloomsburg in the last three minutes of play, the Green and White came back to trounce a Milton eleven -- the second team in L.H.S. history to accomplish this. Next the Dragons suffered defeat at the hands of Northumberland; however, the rest of the season was a triumph for coaches and players, who compiled the best record the Dragons had since the resumption of football as a major sport.

A highlight of the season was the victory over a powerful Danville team, the first over the Ironmen in the annals of L.H.S. Another first was the victory over Watsontown. The team was the second in Lewisburg history to defeat Milton and Selinsgrove, and the first to finish among the top four in the Susquehanna Football League. The victory over Mifflinburg in the final game of the season brought back the Little Brown Jug, lost to Mifflinburg last spring.

Coaches and members of the team could be proud of the brand of football played all season. However, they had more reason to be proud of the fighting spirit and of the cooperation displayed throughout the season.

Don Johnson and George Forbes were chosen co-captains by their teammates.

Although riddled with injuries, the 1954 Green Dragons managed to post a record of two wins, four losses and three ties, a record number of deadlocked games for one season for Lewisburg.

The highlight of the season was a 12-0 victory over Mifflinburg, a hard-fought contest which gave Lewisburg possession of the "Little Brown Jug" for another year.

Bill Forbes, chosen for the end position on the All-Star team picked by coaches of the Susquehanna League, was elected honorary captain by his teammates at the end of the season.

Hit hard by graduation, with six seniors anchoring the offense and defense, the 1955 Green Dragons posted a record of three wins and six losses.

Hardest-earned of the three victories was the season's finale against arch rival Mifflinburg. This was the last of the traditional contests to be held at the end of the season. Played on a mud-covered gridiron at Mifflinburg, the Green Dragons and the Wildcats slugged it out through four quarters before Lewisburg emerged victorious.

Six seniors ended their high school football careers under Coach Andy Sember and assistant coach George Johns. These included Glen Roush, Bob Rathoff, Tim Lawrence, Dave Libby, Frank Bertoni, and Drew Hyman.

The Green and White added a new wrinkle to their training in 1956, attending a pre-season football camp in hopes that it would put the team in the best condition in the shortest possible time.

The Dragons developed a fine team spirit, which sparkled on defense in a tough loss to Milton, but the season netted only three wins, four losses and one tie, a 6-6-deadlock with Mifflinburg in the opening game of the season.

Nine seniors ended their high school football careers under Head Coach Andy Sember. These included Ted Meixell, Alan Gardner, Dave Bennett, Joe Malloy, John Gaym, Jim Katherman, Walt Tolley, Joe Fenton, and Rich O'Neill

LEAGUE CO-CHAMPIONS...1957

Undefeated but twice tied, Coach Bill Lane's Dragons completed a championship season in 1957 as members of the Susquehanna League. It was Lane's first season as head mentor at Lewisburg.

The seven-game slate included wins over Bloomsburg, Jersey Shore, Northumberland, Danville, and Selinsgrove, a scoreless deadlock with Milton and a 13-13 tie against Mifflinburg. Following their 35-12 rout of Selinsgrove, the Green Dragons turned down an offer to play a post-season tilt against unbeaten Lewistown. Because of inclement weather a number of games were cancelled during the season, and Lewisburg shared with Lewistown the championshop of the Susquehanna League.

Co-captains of the team were Jim Wetzel, center; John Donahoe, halfback; and Ben Zimmerman, tackle. Ben won honorable mention for the All-State team, and he and John Donahoe received awards as the outstanding lineman and back, respectively.

The Dragons employed a split-T offense, with John Donahoe starting the season at quarterback. Coach Lane shifted Donahoe to halfback early in the season, replacing him with Joe Kifolo, a passing and kicking specialist. The other running backs were Johnny Pick and Denny Lucas.

Ending their schoolboy careers on a victory note were Graham Showalter, Leon Stover, and Bob Hufnagle, ends; Joe Kifolo, quarterback; Ben Zimmerman and Larry Erdley, tackles; Joe Csoka, Jim Johnson and Pete Kepple, guards; Jim Wetzel, center; and John Donahoe, halfback. Reserves Larry Frankovich, George Dieffenderfer, Bob Meckley, Bob Brouse, Randy Noone and Dave Wagner were also seniors.

Although the Green Dragons posted a record 75-0 rout of Northumberland and returned the traditional "Little Brown Jug to Lewisburg with a 38-20 win over Mifflinburg in the opening tilt of 1958, the season ended with a record of three victories and five losses.

A wet, muddy field set the stage for another super game, this time against Danville, and a bad break handed the Dragons a hard-to-take 2-0 loss.

The coaches of the Susquehanna League selected tackle Leonard Anderson for the first string of the All-League team and tackle Gary Moyer for the second string.

In addition to Moyer and Anderson, seniors ending their high school football careers included team captain Dennis Lucas, Roger Libby, Frank Conrad, John Taylor, Bill McRae, Randy Noone, Bob Kifolo, Alan Kline, Mike Malone and Dan Gordon.

Although the Dragons were only 2-6 for this season, they played some very good games. In the opening game, a "Little Brown Jug" tilt against Mifflinburg, Gale Reish booted a field goal, the only points scored, as the Dragons beat Mifflinburg 3-0. The Dragons also downed a strong Northumberland squad 20-14. Possibly one of the most exciting contests was against Selinsgrove, a conference power. The Dragons played the Seals even, before Selinsgrove finally pushed across the Dragon goal for a 6-0 victory.

Of the 40 boys who reported to practice for Coach Bill Lane, the following were seniors: Dave Kratzer, Gale Reish, Frank Diggan, John Huckaby, Don Herrman, Bob Brouse,Bill Haas, Gary Libby and Robert Hafer.

The Dragons were hurt by inexperience, having only five seniors on the squad. There was only one bright spot in a rather dim season, a 26-20 victory over Warrior Run. They played a tough game against Jersey Shore before losing 26-13. At the league meeting, following the conclusion of the season, Eric Brouse was selected first team All-League end, and senior Tom Degling won honorable mention.

In addition to Degling, seniors on the squad were: Graydon Miles, Mark Betzer, Roland Souders and Ed Kline.

L.H.S. attained a winning record for the first time since 1957, and the Dragons have never had a losing season from 1962 to the present. The Dragons went 6-3, which included a tight victory over Mifflinburg and a big victory over Selinsgrove. The Dragons downed Milton 32-0, the first time Lewisburg had beaten Milton in a decade. Another first in 1962 was the Sunbury game, which was to mark the first meeting between the two teams since the Dragons reopened football in 1945. The Dragons defeated Sunbury 7-6, which helped Lewisburg take second place in the Susquehanna League, their best finish since 1957.

Senior halfback Joe Keister won honorable mention on the All-League squad. In addition to Keister, seniors playing for coach Bill Lane were: Ken Dewire, Bill Hunter, Hank Hendrickson, Bob Rogers, Larry Noll, John Book, John Hafer and Vincent Powell.

The Dragons dropped their affiliation with the Susquehanna League and went independent. They turned in a 5-4 record, but, with a few breaks, they could easily have been 7-2. Lewisburg lost two heartbreakers in the final minutes to Jersey Shore and Milton, but came back in the final three games of the season to take impressive victories from Selinsgrove, Central Columbia, and Towanda. The Dragons convincingly outscored their opponents, 146-121.

AN UNDEFEATED SEASON

This season would prove to be the Dragons most successful since football reappeared in 1945. The Dragons compiled an 8-0 record (no losses and no ties)., the first time that Lewisburg had accomplished this feat in the modern football era.

Throughout the season, Dragon victories had been impressive. They soundly defeated Mifflinburg 51-0 in the season opener. They gained impressive victories over Bloomsburg, Milton, Junita Joint and Penns Valley. In two hard-fought contests the Dragons emerged victorious, 13-7 over Warrier Run and 19-13 over Jersey Shore, two powerful squads in those years. The Green culminated the season by soundly dumping Towanda 73-6.

Both offensively and defensively the Dragons were a superlative squad. On offense the Dragons averaged 34.3 points per game, one of the highest averages in the school's history. On defense the Dragons allowed 4.9 points per game, the lowest total in modern history.

Bill Heim led the team in both rushing and scoring. Quarterback Steve Moyer kept the Dragon attack balanced by passing to two fine ends, Bob Odell and Bob Ryan.

Inexperience marked the beginning of the 1966 season with the loss of 18 seniors from the squad. With only 5 returning lettermen, Bill Lane, Ted Schmittle, George McDowell, Larry Erb and Bud Snyder, the Dragons acquired an impressive record of 7-2-1, and captured second place in their first year in the West Branch League.

1968

Coach Bill Lane and his assistants, Ray Pottios and Ken Bills, produced a team for the 1968 season that really outdid itself in perseverence and power. The Dragons took third place in the West Branch League with a record of 8-2.

With 44 men on the squad and 17 lettermen, the Dragons saw many exciting games, but two really stood out -- a 20-21 loss to Montoursville and the Muncy game, where the Dragons were down 21-26 with 1:23 left and Randy Hoffman made the winning touchdown.

CONFERENCE CO-CHAMPIONS

The 1971 season was a fantastic one for the Dragons and Coach Pottios, and a record of 9-1 made L.H.S. co-champions of the West Branch League.

The most thrilling game of the season came in the clash against B.E.N. The Dragons won the game, 27-19, and ended a 12-year winning streak for B.E.N. on their home field. Another exciting game was with South Williamsport, when, with the Dragons losing 14-20 and 1:15 left to go, Rich Schiebel ran back an 80-yard touchdown to win the game. Lewisburg also lost a heartbreaker to Loyalsock.

The most valuable player of the season was Rich Schiebel, who set the all-time rushing record. Other outstanding players were Dom Herbst, Jim Poynter, Greg Lytle, and Dave Reichard.

Coaches for this season were Mr. Thomas, Mr. Tezik, Mr. Wetzel, Mr. Temple, and Mr. Murray.

The 1972 football season saw the Green Dragons battle for an 8-2 record. Lewisburg lost a tight homecoming game to B.E.N., 14-16, which ended a 14-game winning streak for the Dragons. They also lost to a tough Hughesville team. Perhaps the most desired win was the victory over Loyalsock, after the heart-breaker of the 1971 season.

The most outstanding players for this season were John Yost, Joe Savidge, Paul Miller, Dave Reichard, Chuck Engleman, and Randy Metzger, who came close to a season's touchdown record.

CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

by Brad Gray and Karl Weist

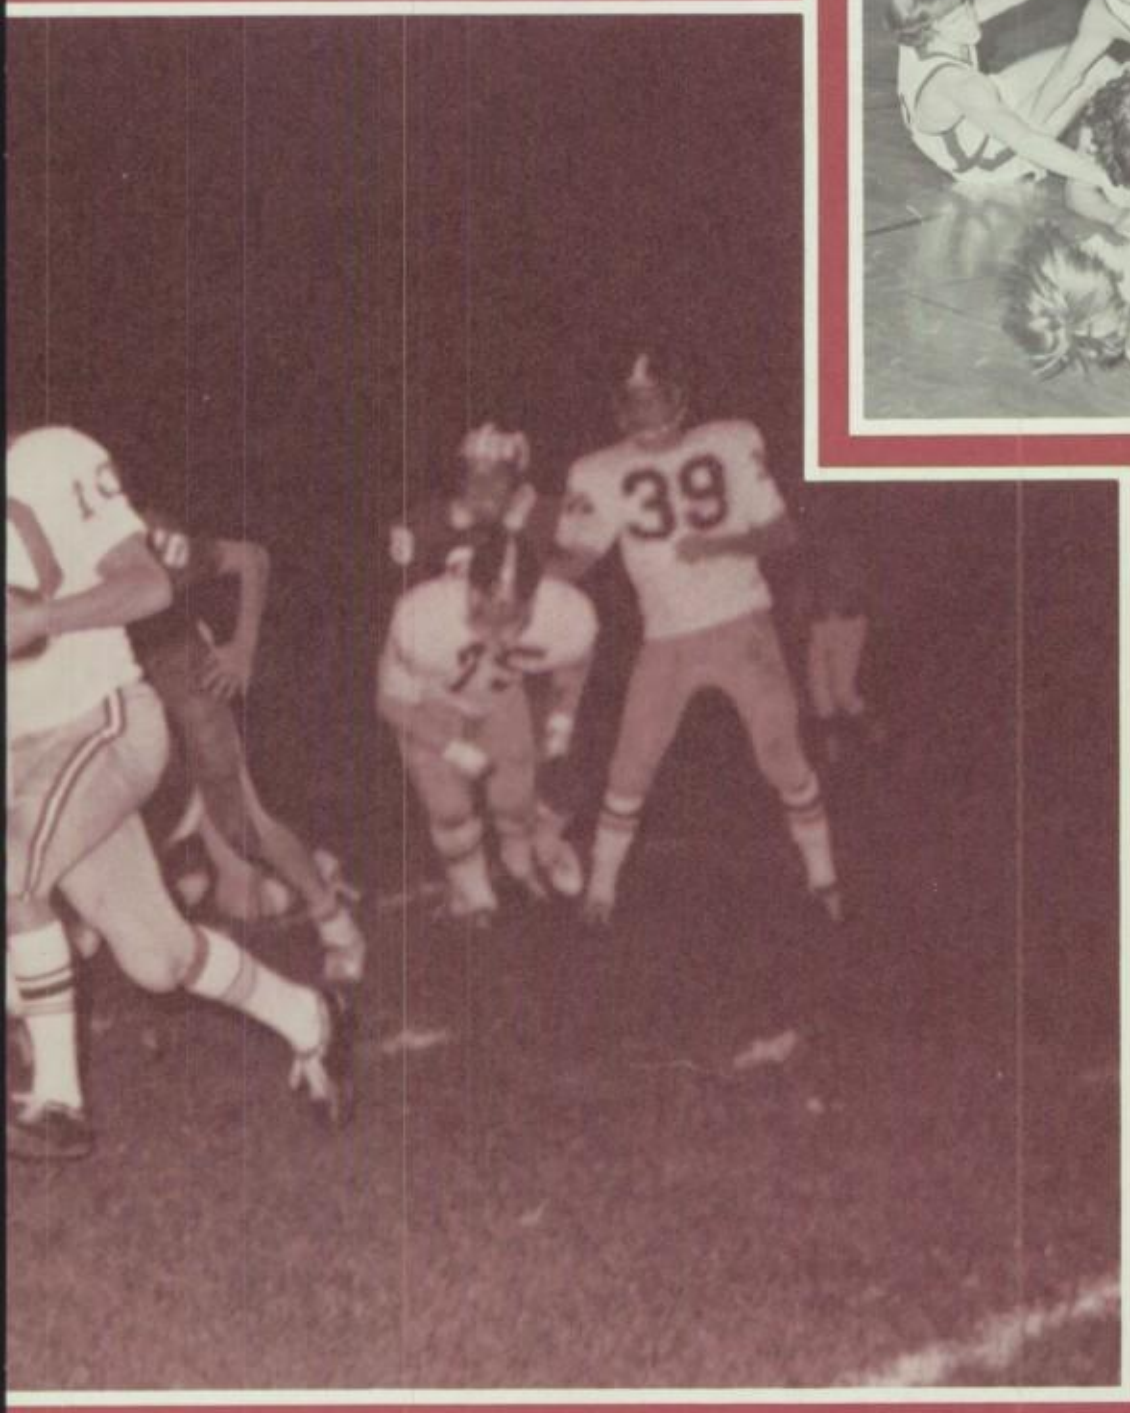
When Lewisburg High School's football team reported for practice on a hot August morning in 1973, the coaching staff confronted the annual problem of replacing the many fine seniors who had graduated in June: no regulars returning on offense and only two on defense. We knew that we had some promising players, and that the main problem was to put everyone in the right place and then get them playing together on offense and defense in time for the opening game. Fortunately, injuries were few,and spirit and effort were good.

Although we dominated our preseason scrimmages with Newport and Wyalusing, we still were not sure what sort of football team this was going to be. We felt that we did not have enough overall size and experience in the offensive line to move the ball consistently on the ground, and we did not know whether our blocking and running was coordinated well enough to deliver the long plays we needed to win. So, we went to Mifflinburg with many questions unanswered. The locker room was very quiet before game time, and it was hard to tell if Lewisburg was ready.

We were! On the first play from scrimmage junior fullback Kevin Dock broke off right tackle and ran about 60 yards for a touchdown. Kevin later opened the second half with another long touchdown run and finished the evening with 180 yards rushing and 4 touchdowns. It was to be a fine year for Kevin and for L.H.S. Halfback Don Warren, "The Blazer," ran 45 yards on a counter for a touchdown in the third quarter. Don went on to contribute many exciting runs throughout the season. QB Ed Herbster kept Mifflinburg's defense off balance with accurate passes to ends Craig Everett and Brian Shaffer. It certainly looked as though Lewisburg was going to have a dangerous offense. The defense did not allow Mifflinburg to score until the final period. Although the Wildcat's started several drives, they were unable to sustain them. The Green Dragon defense had set a pattern for itself that it was to follow throughout most of the season: it would "bend, but not break."

The second game was with Milton. This was to be the year for the Black Panthers, an experienced team with good talent. We were impressed with all phases of their game. They had beaten Warrior Run badly and had visions of an undefeated season. The game brought 7000 fans to Lewisburg, the largest crowd in Bucknell Stadium during the year. Milton people believed this would be the year to beat Lewisburg.

After a bruising battle, Lewisburg emerged the victor by a score of 15 to 0. Again Kevin Dock led the rushers. Ed Herbster passed well and also made some key gains on keeper plays. Paul Miller and Steve



The Year of the Dragon . . .

The first bell rings and so begins the written history of the fall of '73. The second bell rings and for the forty-fifth year, 1730 feet scuff the newly polished floor. It's a new world, even for the teachers. Flexable Modular Scheduling has everyone armed to the teeth with projects, term papers, and work to be done in the well equipped resource center. After several weeks and over 500 mods later, some famous last words are heard from the students; "I thought it was going to be easier!" Along with the reconstruction of the gym, the band room has a new face, the industrial arts room is equipped with a dust exhaustion fan, and the teachers even have their very own headquarters.

The Year of the Dragon does not imply a Chinese New Year or that the planets are lined up vertically. This year is a milestone on which all future years will be based. In just one season several goals have already been achieved. The Cross Country Team, in its first year, set records with their ties and co-district four championship. The girls' field hockey team never achieved as much as they did Mathias made some key plays in our defensive secondary. Now Lewisburg could sense the making of a good season. Milton went on to win the B. championship of the Susquehanna Valley League, defeating Shikellamy and class B Eastern Conference champion Bloomsburg.

Loyalsock was another "big game." Loyalsock had beaten a good South Williamsport team and a promising Hughesville team. The Lancers and the Dragons were undefeated and starting to eye the championship. It turned out to be a near perfect game for Lewisburg. We could do no wrong. The first four times we got the ball we drove for long touchdowns. Ed Herbster's passes to Craig Everett, and Ed's runs behind Don Warren's fine blocks highlighted the offense. Tackle Glenn Folio made some key plays on defense, and Craig Everett helped to stop many Lancer drives with his excellent play at defensive end. We were ahead 28 to 0 at halftime, and then got some apparently unneeded help from a torrential downpour during the second half.

The fourth game was with Warrior Run. It was good to see former Lewisburg coach Bill Lane again. Bill, one of the league's best coaches, was in the process of building up Warrior Run's football program. We didn't know how his boys would perform against his old team. Our boys took charge on the field and did not let up until the game was out of reach. It was another good day for the Dragons, 42-14.

Next came the annual "brawl" with South Williamsport. The two previous games with South were squeakers and this was to be no exception. It was a real physical game, and the fans on both sides went wild. Two excellent bands did their best to inspire their teams. The final score was 7-6, Lewisburg. The margin of victory was George Zeyn's extra point placement kick. Among the few bright spots for our offense were the darting runs of Tony Bingaman through the big South line. Although Kevin Dock's punt returns kept us in good field position, we could manage only one touchdown. Our defense, including Chuck Engelman and big Mike Erdley in the line, and linebackers Lynn Sholley and Tom Snook, continued its excellent play. Brian Shaffer, who was sent into the defensive secondary late in the game to intercept passes, intercepted two, and Karl Weist contributed an opportune fumble recovery.

Game number six was with hot and cold Montoursville. Our offense could not move in the first half, but the defense again rose to the occasion and more than made up for it. Our two defensive ends, Craig Everett and Kevin Dock, each intercepted a flat pass and ran for long touchdowns. Late in the first half the defense recovered a fumble and gave the ball to the offense on the Warrior's 7 yard line. Kevin Dock ran it over on the first play. The offense contributed a little more in the second half, particularly when excellent blocking popped Kevin Dock loose for another long touchdown run. Final score, 27-0.

Another "big game" -- this time with undefeated Montgomery -- a well-balanced, agressive team. Again, Lewisburg was more than ready. The offense, recovering from a two-week slump, could not be stopped. Our offensive line -- with Scott Sholley at center, Mike Sholley and Gene Ammon at guard, and Glenn Folio and Brad Gray at tackle -- had its best game. Kevin Dock gained 212 yards rushing and scored 26 points. Craig Everett caught four passes for 68 yards. The defense did not allow Montgomery to score until the game was decided. A total team effort won the game and kept alive our hopes for a championship season. The 41-12 Dragon victory was a big disappointment for Montgomery although coach John Zalonis' excellent team went on to win the class B championship of our league.

The eighth game was at Bald Eagle Nittany, our old nemesis. We had prepared hard for this game, maybe too hard. Our coaching staff knew Walt Diehl's teams are always hard to beat and expected lots of trouble. Perhaps some of our players may have been comparing earlier scores and had become a little overconfident. The Panthers had tied Montgomery, but were still undefeated in league play. We thought that BEN might adjust its defense for our game, but, instead, they changed their offensive formation. We were unable to stop them, and we couldn't move against their quick, agressive defense. From the outset it looked like it might be a long afternoon. On our second offensive play we fumbled after a good gain and they recovered. On BEN's first offensive play, a short pass which was batted high into the air by Craig Everett, the ball fell into the hands of a BEN receiver for a nice gain. They marched right in for a touchdown. Later, in the first quarter, it seemed as if our luck might be improving when they fumbled on about their 25-yard line, and we immediately drove in for a touchdown and a short-lived 7-6 this year. But last and certainly not least, the Football team captured the West Branch Championship, but not without Faith and hard work. The band and cheerleaders, bonfire, pep rallies, and homecoming added fuel to the fire of the naturally high school spirit.

Sports were not the only form of green power. The Student Bill of Rights and Responsibilities was a pace setter. The theater department produced two very difficult and successful plays entitled "The American Dream" and "A Bald Soprano."

Some things do remain traditional though, including yearbook deadlines accompanied by all-nighters. Student Council is constantly revising its policies to fit the needs of the student body. And good ol' Senioritis has reached epidemic proportions among the class of '74. Keeping all this in mind, we welcome you to the Year of the Dragon.

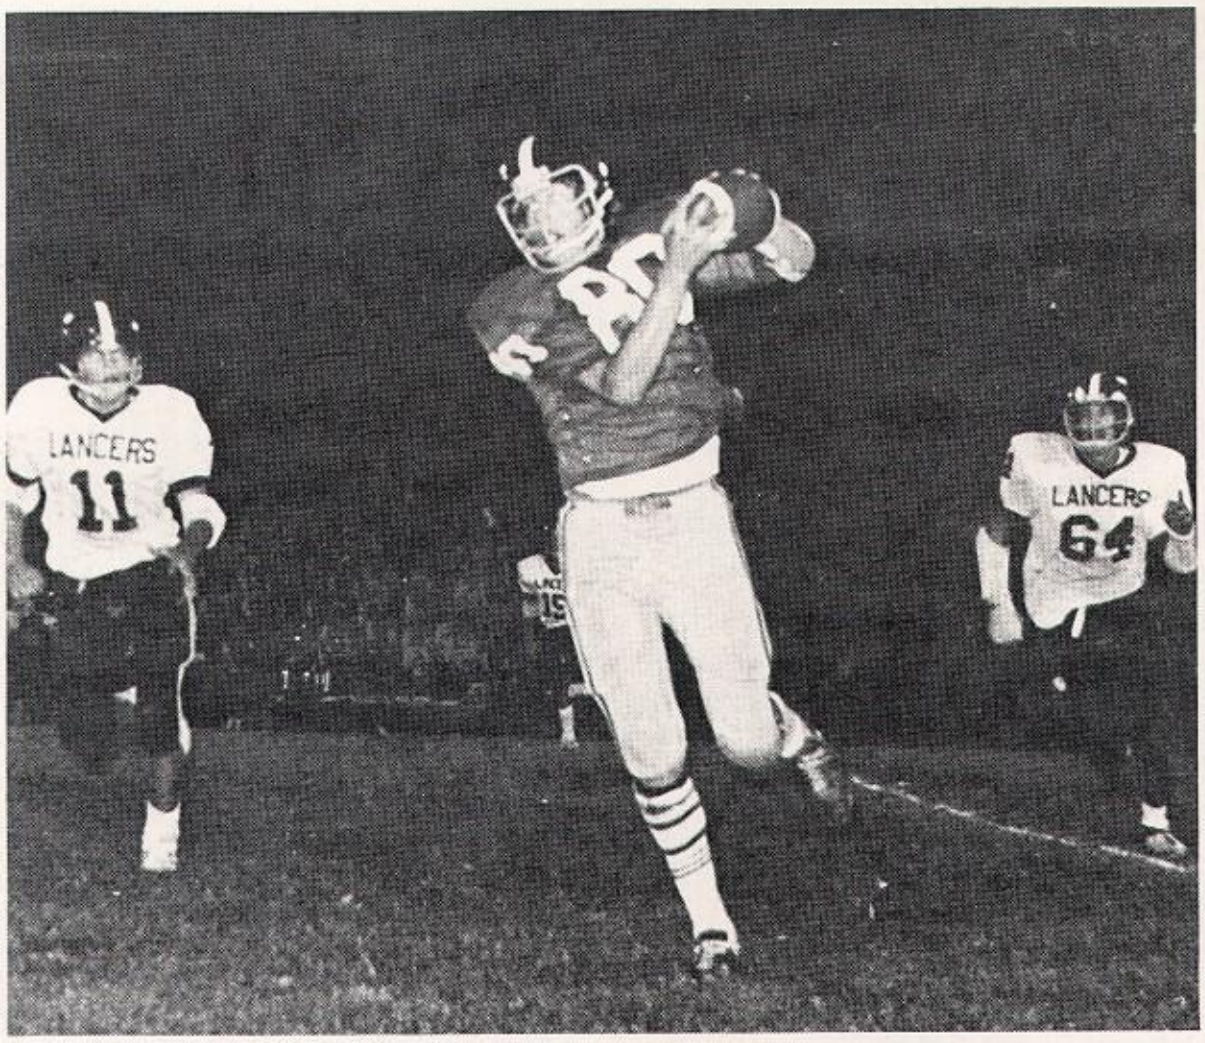
lead. From that point on, BEN's passing attack and agressive defense took over. Our play, particularly on offense, improved some in the second half, but we were soundly beaten. Fine pass-catching by Jeff Crawford and Brian Shaffer, and Kevin Dock's hard running gave us something to cheer about late in the game.

Instead of winning the "big game" as we had been doing all season, we had lost what seemed at the time to be the decisive game. It was a bad day for both coaches and players. Some fans, frustrated by watching an undefeated Lewisburg team run around against Bald Eagle Nittany for the second year in a row, suddenly turned into howling "wolves." As if things were not bad enough, QB Ed Herbster broke a finger on his right hand during the game and would not be able to play for a couple of weeks.

The stage now appeared to be set for a repeat of the 1972 season when the Green Dragons won 7 straight, lost a heartbreaker to BEN, and then, demoralized, were upset by a tough Hughesville team. Our regular QB was out, and a young, strong Hughesville team under veteran coach, George Nace, was very anxious to make up for some tough earlier losses.

When Hughesville scored first, it certainly seemed as if history were repeating itself, but, despite the great pressure, this Lewisburg team did not crack. Senior Steve Mathias, our regular defensive safety, took over at QB and did a tremendous job. He passed to Craig Everett for a touchdown with seconds remaining in the first half to give us a 7-6 lead. Steve completed 9 out of 10 passes during the game, including two more touchdown passes to Craig in the second half, and our defense did not allow the Spartans to score again. We had a hard-earned victory over a good Hughesville team.



Craig Everett snatches touchdown pass.

The final game of the season was preceded by a pleasant surprise. On Friday night Bald Eagle Nittany ran into a buzz saw at Hughesville, and lost 7-6. We played Muncy at the Stadium on Saturday, and a victory would give us the championship.

Muncy was coming to the end of a poor season, and the enthusiastic Dragons weren't about to make it any better. Lewisburg scored at will. The inexperienced Muncy team could score only against our reserves. In a wild game that even saw linemen running the ball, we ended the 1973 season with a 64-30 win.

So it turned out to be a very good season. Lessons were learned by all. One bad game does not necessarily ruin a season. Good hard work will always pay dividends -- somewhere, somehow. For this team there was a silver lining.

Our players overcame the added burden of not having a regular place to dress for practice during the renovation of the high school gym. Thanks to Bucknell's athletic director Bob Latour and the University, we had a part-time dressing room and a full-time practice field. Without this big assist we would have had real serious problems with practice facilities with which to fashion a championship season.

Our First Victory . . .

MAKE IT TWO IN A ROW

by Brad Gray and Karl Weist

What kind of football team would Lewisburg High School have in 1974? The coaching staff was somewhat optimistic because five offensive and three defensive regulars were returing from the 1973 championship team. The team's success would depend on the attitude of the veteran players, and the quick development of the less experienced players.

The season was to be a successful one, and that succesful season began in late June when almost all the returning regulars, and many younger players, began reporting regularly for weight training and conditioning. From the intense interest and dedication shown by the players in the preseason conditioning program, it was obvious to the coaches that, barring injuries to key players, Lewisburg was going to be tough.

The squad, following the leadership of captains Kevin Dock, Ed Herbster, Brian Shaffer, and Tom Snook, began practice in August with dedication and enthusiasm. They went on to demonstrate the same attitude, with few exceptions, throughout the season.

Our first scrimmage was at home with Newport. Although Newport was not strong, both the offense and defense of the Green Dragons looked good. The offense had some trouble breaking the "big play", but moved the the ball consistently on the ground, and in the air. The defense stopped Newport.

A scrimmage at Wyalusing was scheduled for the second week of practice, but Wyalusing cancelled the scrimmage at the last minute because illness had weakened their team. When the coaches were unable to arrange another scrimmage, it was decided to hold an intra-squad scrimmage instead. This turned out to be a blessing in disguise, because we found some boys who really wanted to play football during that scrimmage. Prior to the intra-squad clash we had been playing many players both ways, but when we ran our offense against our own defense we were forced to use several new players on defense. Our offense had lots of trouble moving the football, and the outstanding play of Mike Korizno and Dave Baker in the secondary, and Steve James at linebacker, caused much of that trouble. So the scrimmage accomplished several good things, including the insertion of Mike, Dave, and Steve as defensive regulars, where they would remain throughout the season, and also the added motivation it gave the offense to work harder during the last week of preseason practice.

The lineup that Coach Pottios decided would open the season was now set. On offense: Brian Shaffer and Jeff Crawford were the ends: the tackles were Brad Gray and Greg Hess; the guards were Gene Ammon and Bill Wagner; Jody Sholley was at center; the quarterback was Ed Herbster;

First prize to the freshmen.

Kevin Dock was the fullback; and the halfbacks were Jeff Hummel, Bob Latour, and Randy Casimir. On defense: Kevin Dock and Brian Shaffer were the ends; Brad Gray,Jody Sholley, and Greg Hess were to play tackle; George Zeyn and Karl Weist were the guards; the linebackers were Tom Snook and Steve James; and Jeff Crawford, Mike Korizno, and Dave Baker were set in the secondary. Mike Kifolo was chosen to handle the punting, and he did an excellent job throughout the season. George Zeyn would again kick our extra points, and, as in 1973, he would kick them when we needed them.

The regular season opened at the Stadium with Mifflinburg. The defense proved that it was ready by completely shutting off the Wildcat's attack, and the offense, although somewhat inconsistent, put more than enough points on the board to win. Kevin Dock led the rusher, as he would continue to do throughout the season, with 120 yards in 19 carries, and 3 touoch-yards in 19 carries, and 3 touchdowns. However, the outstanding offensive play was Jeff Hummel's 33-yard touchdown run late in the first quarter. The 1974 season was off to a good start.

The second game was played at Milton on a wet, rainy night. The Green Dragons played very well against a good Milton team. Milton's offense never got going against an aggressive Dragon defense, and we had our second straight shut-out 20 to 0. Interceptions by Steve James and Dave Baker proved to be key plays in the game. Kevin Dock rushed for over 100 yards again, and the offense moved the ball consistently. In the third quarter, Ed Herbster hit Jeff Hummel with a perfect 55-yard touchdown pass on the right sideline. It was one of the best plays of the year, and put an end to any thoughts of a Milton comeback.

The Loyalsock game at home was scheduled for Saturday night, but rain caused it to be postponed until Monday. The lay-off had little effect on Lewisburg, and we defeated an excellent Loyalsock team 28 to 13. The defense got "burned" for the first time when the Lancer's scored on a 77-yard screen pass that tied the game 7 to 7 in the second quarter. But, thereafter, it was all downhill for the visitors. Kevin Dock had an outstanding game, running off tackle for 195 yards and 2 touchdowns. Ed Herbster also had a great night, completing 16 of 24 passes for 180 yards. Brian Shaffer caught nine of those passes.

Another rainy evening, this time at Warrior Run. Former Green Dragon coach Bill Lane had put together a fine Warrior Run team, and it looked like Lewisburg was in for lots of trouble. However, the Lewisburg players went right to work, and rushed off to a 20 to 0 halftime lead. Warrior Run played much better in the second half, but couldn't make much of a dent in the Dragon lead.

The South Williamsport game at the Stadium was, in addition to being the usual hard-hitting affair, the best played game of the season. Both teams played clean, hard football, and neither was guilty of a single turn-over. Our offense threatened several times in the first half, but was turned back empty-handed by a determined South defense, and two barely missed field goal attempts by George Zeyn. In the third quarter South began a long drive toward the Dragon goal, and things looked bad. We finally stopped them late in the third quarter with a tremendous 4th down effort at about our 15-yard line. They made a mistake when they gave us the ball. The green Dragon offense launched its longest and best drive of the year. For about 10 minutes, 85 yards, and 24 plays we fought toward South's goal. With less than three minutes remaining in the game we were 4th and goal on the South 2-yard line. Everyone knew that Kevin Dock was going to carry the ball, and Kevin, behind solid blocking, went off left tackle, cut to the outside, and scored the winning touchdown.

Jeff Crawford waits for long T.D. pass.

After five hard-earned victories it was obvious that the Green Dragons were going to make another run at the league championship. Montoursville was also undefeated in league play, and had similar ideas. More rain at Montoursville, but both teams were ready to play. The first half was a see-saw affair with both teams moving the ball well and scoring. For the first time our defense was having trouble, and we held a precarious 22 to 15 lead at halftime. The second half was a different story. Our offense kept moving, and our defense really got tough, and we won a very satisfying 45 to 23 victory. Kevin Dock, behind excellent blocking, had a great night with 206 yards rushing, and a total of 32 points. Six interceptions, two each by Jeff Crawford and Dave Baker, and one by Steve James and Kevin Dock, helped turn the game our way.

The sixth game was played at Montgomery. The Dragon's had little trouble with the inexperienced Red Raiders. Kevin Dock gained over 200 yards rushing for the second consecutive week, and Ed Herbster completed 7 of 9 passes for 96 yards. Reserve sophomore halfback Brad Richardson gave Lewisburg opponents a glimpse

A Coaches Comments on The 1974 Senior Players

Number 6, Mike Korizno. A real student of the game. He is very intelligent and knows more about the sport than most players. He is a very good hard tackler.

Number 10, Ed Herbster. A co-captian and one of the finest quarterbacks we've ever had. He directed us to two championships, and he was always willing to learn. He is big, fast, and has a tremendous arm. He should do well in college. Enough credit was not given to this player. We'll miss him.

Number 11, Jim Leitzel. A little small, but gave his all. He got along well with others. He had those in-qualtities to make others happy. He was always willing to help. He played well and hit hard.

Number 20, Jeff Hummel. Smiling, always in good humor, he was starting halfback. He was injured during the season, and did a lot of sacrificing for other people. He was nicknamed "Oscar" for a number of reason. He played defensive halfback at times.

Number 24, Steve James. One of the smallest but hardest hitters on the team. Linebacker was his position, and linebacker he did play. He had very smart football sense. He was another guy who was always smiling.

Number 30, Dave Baker. Defensive halfback, a real good find this year. He led the team in interceptions. He was a good, hard tackler who loved to kid around.

Number 39, Kevin Dock. Fullback and defensive end. We could write a book on this fellow because he did rewrite a lot of records, in the league and in our school. He was a tough, hard, fast, well-balanced individual. It was a real pleasure to watch him game after game. He was a co-captain and led by example. He pulled people together a lot of the time.

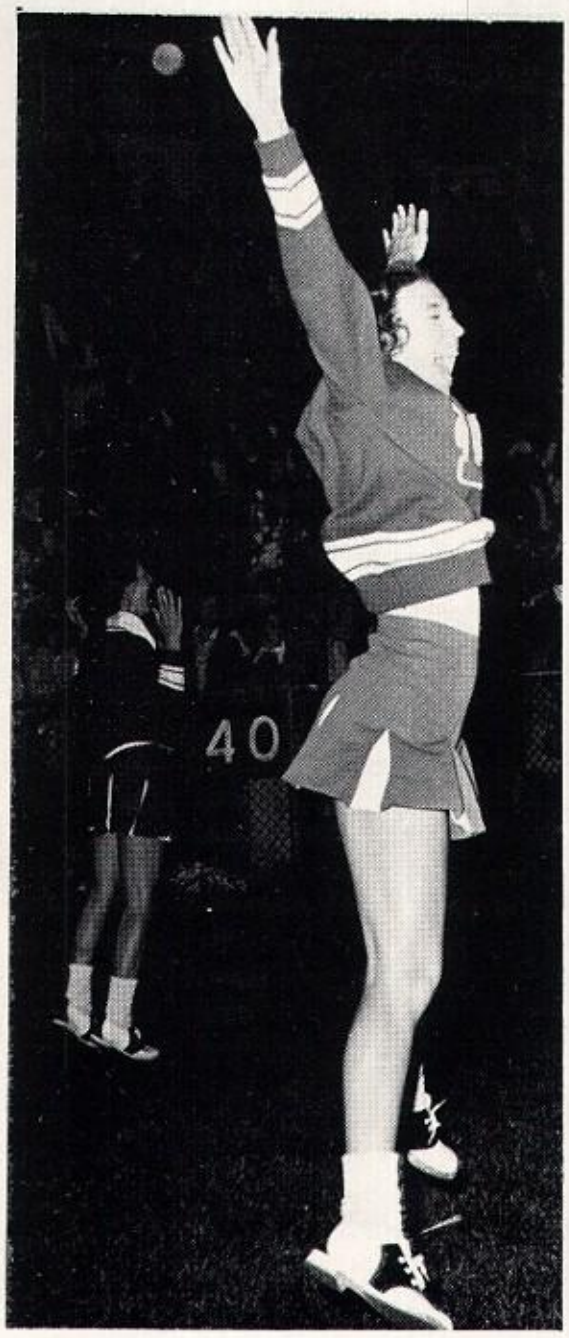
Number 43, Bob Latour. Halfback. He kept the other guys going with his blocking. This player had a lot of guts. He was not the biggest, but hung in there with the big boys. He is a good man to have on a squad.

Number 50, Karl Weist. Mr. Happiness, know-all, have-all, and do-all, plus many others. He worked his tail off and enjoyed every minute of it. We could use him everywhere, but mostly he played defensive guard. He had real ability, but most of all he could be labeled, Charley Hustle.

Number 57, Dennis Denius. Reserve tackle and center. He was always in good temperament and took things as they came and did not complain. He had a good personality, liked to horse around at times, but got the job done.

Number 61, George Zeyn. He was the biggest man on the squad and the kindest. He never could be labeled "Mean George." He did our extra points and kickoff plus defensive guard and tackle. He had good agility for a big man and improved greatly in his kickoffs toward the end of the year.

Number 62, Tom Snook. Another co-captain, center, and linebacker. He was mainly on defense as linebacker or sometimes a guard, depending upon the defense. He was strictly business and got the job done, worked hard. Tom was also a good athlete. He was our defensive signal-caller.



Number 69, Gene Ammon. Offensive guard. His actions spoke louder than his words. He was quiet but commanded respect from everyone on the team. Doing scouting work and helping others would please him most. He was a two-year starter at guard. We'd like to have him for another year, but time moves on.

Number 74, Greg Hess. Offensive tackle. He could not get too serious but did the job. He always liked to be around people. Vehicles facinated him. If heavy equipment would be on the field, and he could use them, we'd never have lost a game. He was a real valuable member of the team.

Number 75, Brad Gray. Offensive and devensive tackle, he worked both ways. It was his second year as a starter. He never asked for any help and did a big job, in a quiet way. He was one of the reasons why the line worked so well. Here is another who thinks that helping mankind is more important than taking advantage of them. He is a fine young man who practices what he preaches.

Number 81, Brian Shaffer. Co-captain, offensive and defensive end. He gave everybody credit for being good. He worked very hard at his success. He has size, speed grades, etc. Among those given credit for the success of the team, Brian would be near the top, if not the top. Brian's future lies ahead of him, in college.

Number 88, Doug Heiter. A defensive specialist who would be on first team at most other schools. We had two great defensive ends, so Doug was on all the special teams. He was rather quiet but worked hard at his job. If we were lucky, he'd be back next year.

Number 89, Jeff Crawford. Offensive end and safety. He was a good steady ball player who was happy with work. He always seemed to be tired, but would never let up. He was a good student of the game and never ran away from contact. Jeff and our linbackers were the hardest hitting defensive backs in the league.

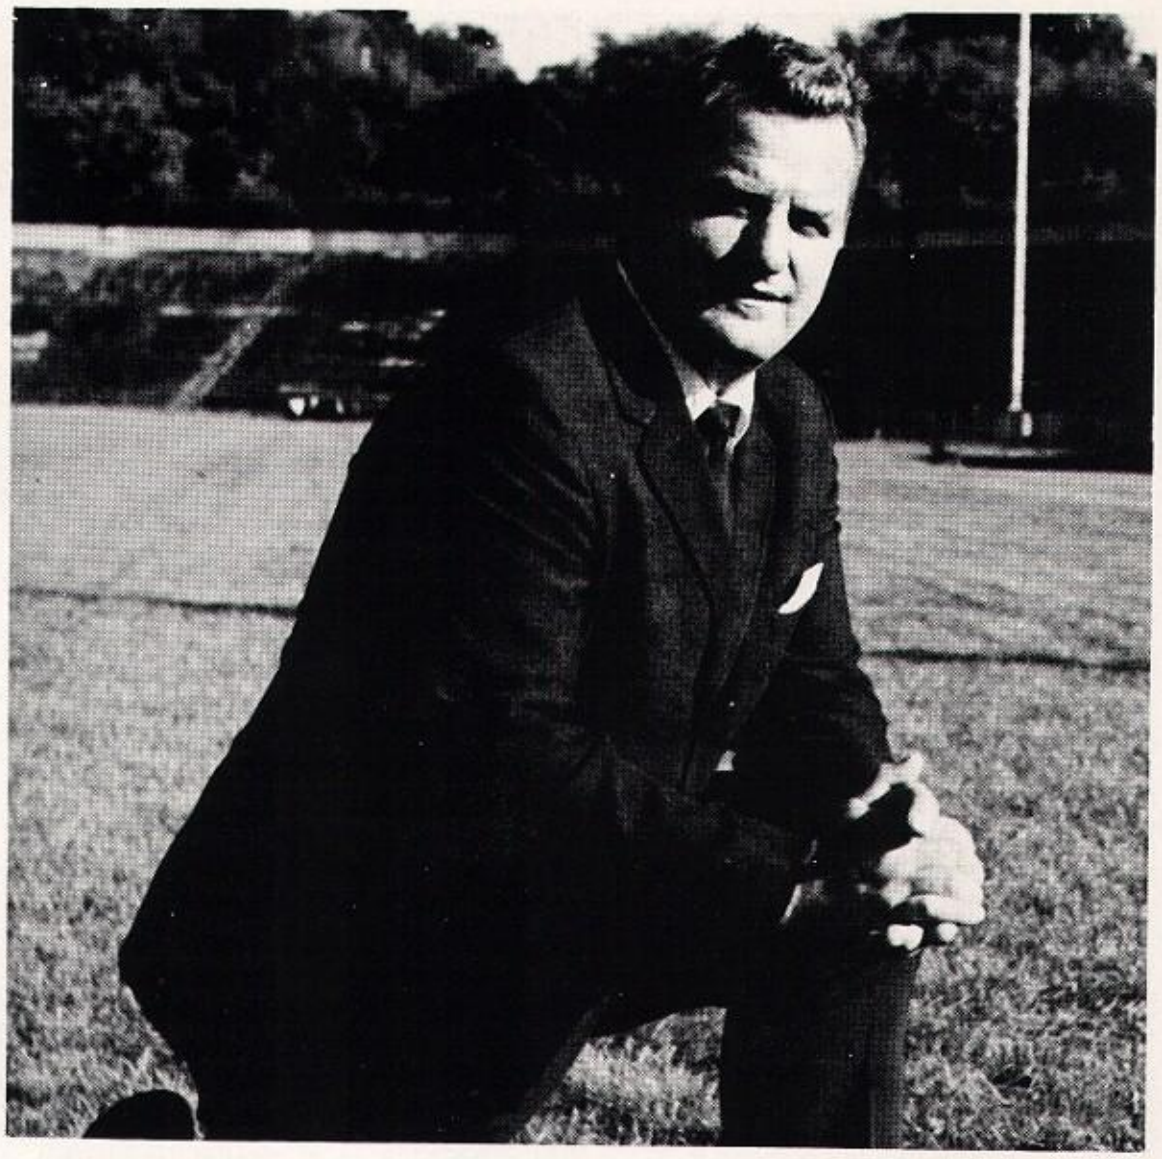
into the future when he ran 70 yards for a touchdown in the fourth quarter.

On the Saturday after our game with Montgomery we received good news when Loyalsock upset Bald Eagle Nittany. We knew ther BEN's defeat would certainly not make it any easier for us to beat them, but it sure improved our chances of winning the league championship. After our seventh game we were undefeated. Our next two opponents, BEN, the preseason favorite, and Hughesville had lost 2 and 1 games, respectively. The winner of the championship would probably be decided during the next two weeks. For the first time since 1970, the Lewisburg-BEN game would not be the key game to determine the league champion.

We entered the Bald Eagle Nittany game with high hopes, but for the third straight year an inspired BEN team defeated Lewisburg. It was a damp, foggy Friday night. The fog at the Stadium was so thick that you could not see clearly from one side of the field to the other, and you could not see anything more than 50 or 60 yards away. The fog was bad, but it was the furious, inspired play of the visiting players that bothered us the most. Fighting hard to make up for previous losses, and to retain a chance to win the championship, the veteran BEN team, under coach Walt Diehl, gave Lewisburg a lesson in how to play the game. Our offense moved occasionaly, but fumbles and interceptions prevented us from scoring. It turned out to be the worst offensive performance by Lewisburg in several years. The defense was not much better, as BEN, although usually stopped, broke several long runs off tackle to score or set up touchdowns. It was a bad day for Lewisburg, although perhaps some of our players learned the following important lesson: When things go wrong, losing your composure and concentration only makes things worse.

The team's state of shock lasted well into the next week, but gradually the players and coaches recovered, and began to practice with enthusiasm again. They realized that, although the BEN game was important as far as our pride was concerned the game with Hughesville would determine the league's champion. Both Lewisburg and Hughesville entered the game with identical 7-1 records. Hughesville undoubtedly had one of the best teams in the school's history, and they were very excited about the "big" game at the Stadium. Soon after the opening kickoff it became apparent that the Green Dragons were playing the same kind of inspired football that BEN had played the week before. Hughesville's tough ground attack was smothered completely by our hard-hitting defense. The offense immediately moved the ball near the Hughesville goal where it was temporarily stopped by a lost fumble. Soon after, Mike Korizno intercepted a Hughesville pass at their 30 and returned it to the 26. On the first play Ed Herbster faked a running play, and threw a 26-yard scoring pass to Jeff Crawford. Our defense went on to allow Hughesville only 43 yards net rushing, and no yards at all passing, while recording Lewisburg's 4th shutout of the year. The offense moved the ball well all evening, and Kevin Dock fought his way into the end zone for two additional scores. It was a great comeback win for Lewisburg, and only winless Muncy stood between us and our second straight West Branch League Championship.



In six seasons as head coach, Ray Pottios has established a rather amazing record at Lewisburg. Following Bill Lane's departure in 1968, Pottios has amassed a 50-9-1 record. Three of his teams have either shared, or won outright, a West Branch Conference championship. The 1971 team shared the honor with Loyalsock, and the 1973 and 1974 teams won their respective championships outright. All three teams compiled 9-1 seasons.

Muncy did not stand in our way very long. Playing at Muncy, Lewisburg completely dominated play. With Kevin Dock, Jeff Hummel, and Bob Latour running very well, and Ed Herbster completing many passes, the Green Dragons led 35 to 0 at halftime. Long before the game was over, Kevin Dock went over 200 yards rushing for the third time. The defense did not allow Muncy to score until the game was far out of reach.

Another championship for Lewisburg. It was not a perfect season, but certainly a very, very good one, and a welcome reward for many long months of hard work.

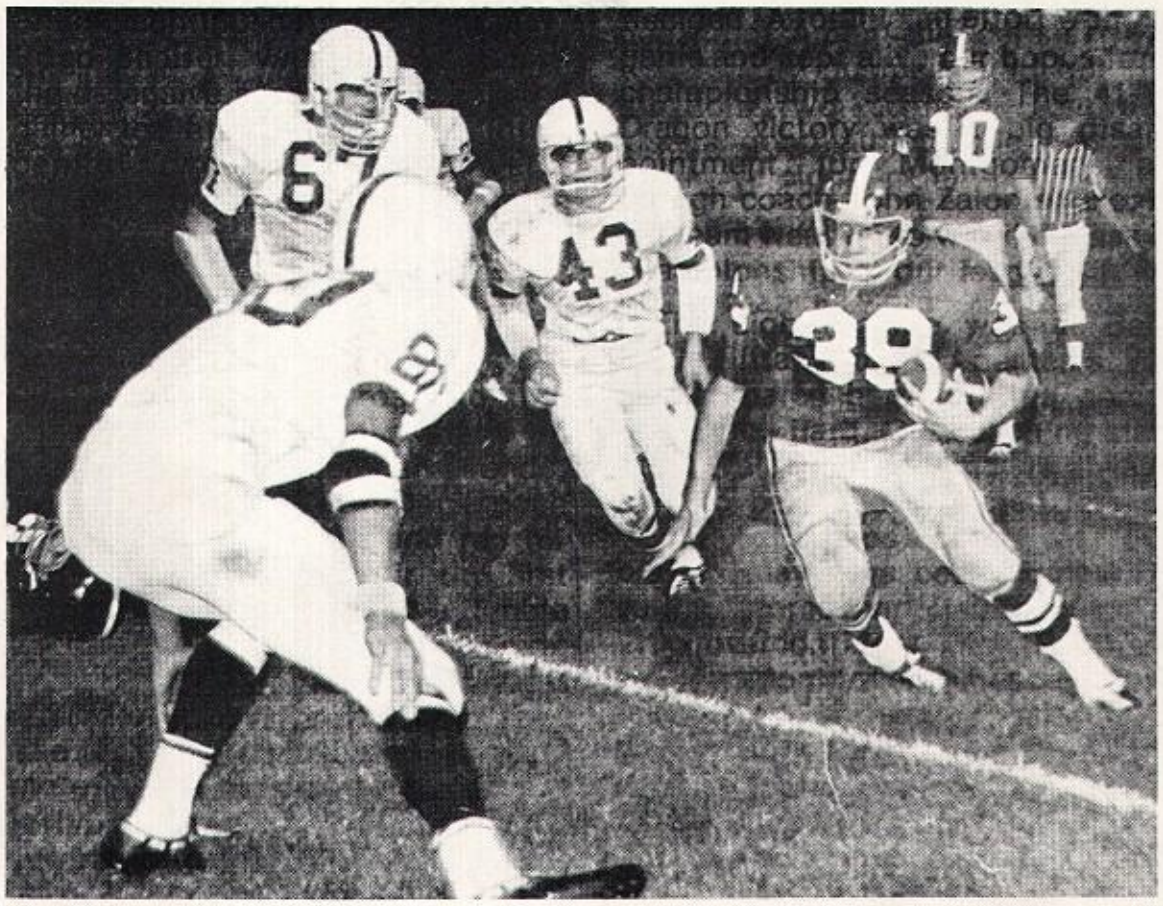
The 1974 Offensive "GREEN MACHINE"

With 2,740 yards rushing and 906 yards passing, a total of 3,646 for a 10-game season, the big "Green Machine" of Coach Ray Pottios wore down opponents and put points on the scoreboard where it counted.

Led by Quarterback Ed Herbster, who was named Most Valuable Player of the team, four other backs, two ends and kicker George Zeyn accounted for the scoring punch of the Dragons.

Clearly the outstanding running back in the West Branch Conference for 1974, and some say the finest offensive back in Green Dragon history, Kevin Dock set season and career records, winning honorable mention for the Big 33 All-State team, Back of the Year award for the conference,and first string on the All-State A.P. team. Dock's season total of 1,510 yards in 249 carries and 154 points scored, put his name in the record books in capital letters. Kevin averaged 6.1 yards per carry during the season, and 6.2 yards per game for the three years that he played varsity football. In three years, No. 39 ripped opponents for a staggering total of 2,771 yards in 441 carries, scoring 292 points for the Dragons. He scored a mere 12 points as a sophomore, 126 points as a junior, and 154 points as a senior. In his final season of play, he had three games in which he gained 200 or more yards (Montoursville, Montgomery, and Muncy) while he managed also to catch eight passes for 114 yards.



Kevin Dock [39] gains record-breaking yards.

Quarterback Ed Herbster carries the mail

Ed Herbster was the "gunner" of the Dragons, completing 61 of 124 passes for a net gain of 838 yards. That works out to a .429 percentage of completions and a 13.7 yard average per pass. Ed was intercepted only five times during the season, and his longest "bomb" was a 55-yard toss to back Jeff Hummel. It was the second year as offensive leader for Ed, who scored two touchdowns rushing and added to the offensive powerhouse with "keeper" plays to the outside. His 252 yards rushing on 65 attempts averaged 3.9 yards per carry.

Adding punch and variety to the offense were Jeff Hummel, who averaged 5.3 yards per carry on 73 attempts for 388 yards and two T.D.'s; Bob Latour, who averaged 3.9 yards on 57 attempts for 222 yards and two T.D.'s; and Randy Casimir, who averaged 3.8 yards per carry on 9 attempts for 38 yards. Also contributing to the scoring punch were Ken Deddo and Tim

This year's Field Hockey team fought hard with genuine Dragon spirit. Their loyal coach was Mrs. LeCates who worked them hard all during the rough fall season. Some seniors to note are Sue Glock, Cindy Walter, and Beth Johnson. Put together they made a top-notch team.

Bingaman, juniors, and Brad Richardson, a sophomore, who scored three touchdowns, one on a 70 yard romp against Montgomery.

Brian Shaffer, sharing assignment at end with Kevin Dock and Jeff Crawford, was the 6'-4" target for 35 completions by Ed Herbster. Brian netted 501 yards and scored five touchdowns, several in crucial situations. Jeff Crawford picked off 16 passes for 188 yards scoring one touchdown, and Dock caught eight for 114 yards. Jeff Hummel, Bob Latour, Mike Cortez and Ken Deddo also snared one pass each, Hummel's a 55-yard dazzler for a T.D.

Mike Kifolo, taking on a kind of family tradition, was the man who kept the opposition away from the Dragon's door when the offense bogged down. Mike put his foot to the pigskin 21 times for a total of 773 yards. This was an average of 36.8 yards per punt, his longest kick measuring 51 yards.

George Zeyn, defensive guard, was the big man who put his toe to the ball on kickoffs for the Dragons. George also added 20 points to the season's total scoring with 20 place kicks through the uprights.

The offensive line was anchored by Jody Sholley at center. Gene Ammon and Bill Wagner, a junior were the guards and Brad Gray and Greg Hess held down the tackle slots. Brian Shaffer and Jeff Crawford were the ends.

1974 Champs Lead League In Defense

First in defense against the rush and first in defense against the pass in the West Branch Conference, the men who anchored the Green Dragons against nine conference opponents were stingy with yards and with points on the score board.

In the ten games of the 1974 season, the Green Dragons allowed opponents 109 points, or 10.9 per game; 824 yards rushing, or 82.4 yards per game; and 734 yards passing, or 73.4 yards per game. By contrast, the Dragons on offense racked up 3,646 total yards and scored 283 points.

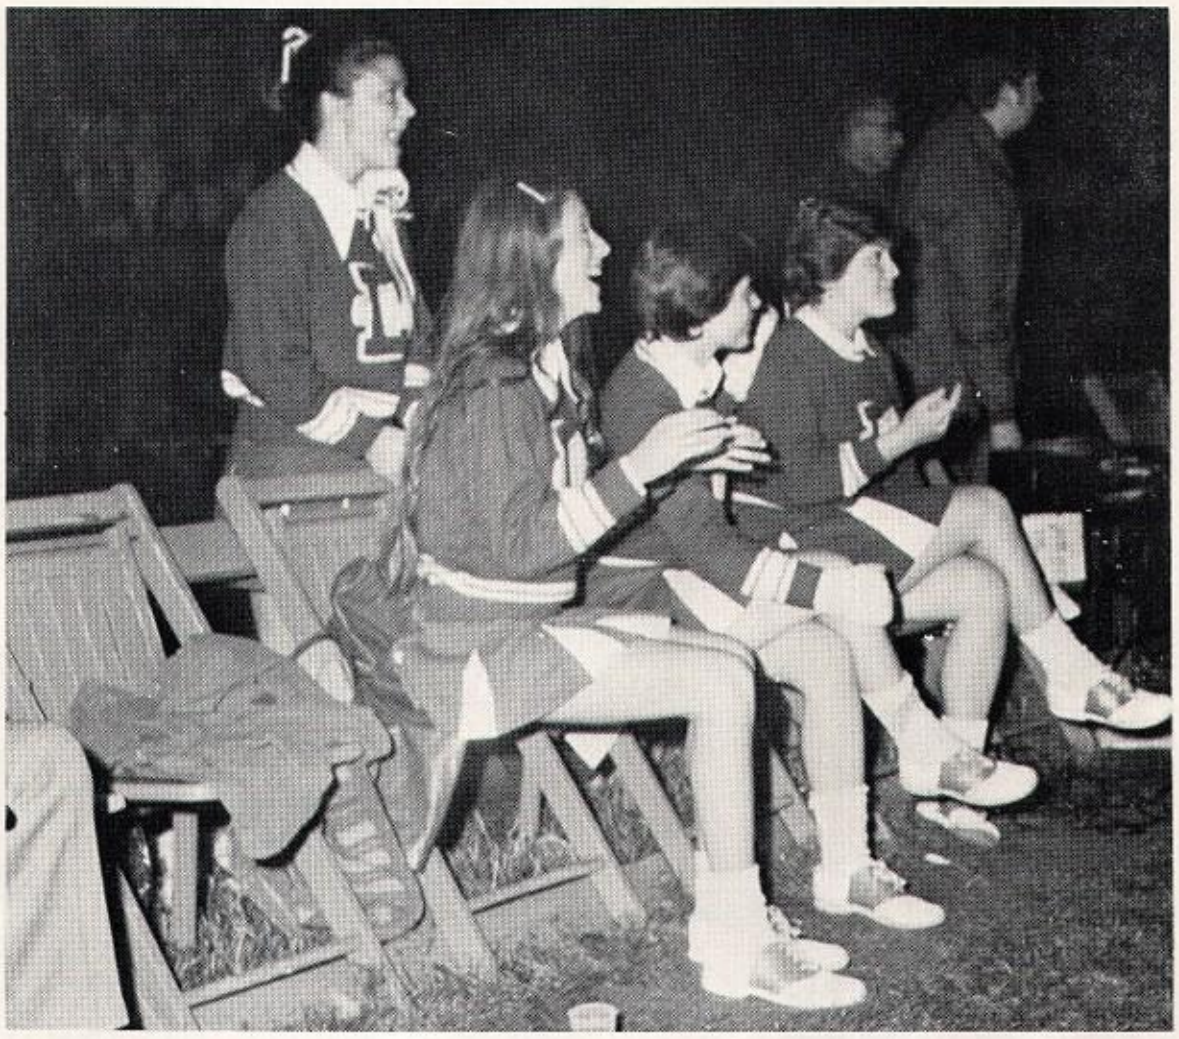
Tom Snook, linebacker and defensive captain, set the example for the men he led with 45 tackles and 30 assists. Steve James, at the other linebacking slot, had 36 tackles and 35 assists.

In the line, Karl Weist, at guard, hit for 35 tackles and 31 assists. George Zeyn, at guard, had 14 tackles and 24 assists. Alternating in the tackles slots were Brad Gray, 22 tackles and 23 assists; Jody Sholley, 10 tackles and 12 assists; and Greg Hess, 9 tackles and 11 assists.

Ends Kevin Dock and Brian Shaffer sparkled on offense and defense. Shaffer had 27 tackles and 24 assists, while Dock had 23 tackles and 17 assists. Alternating in the end slot, Randy Casimir contributed 12 tackles and 6 assists.

Nicknamed the "Burn Brothers," Dave Baker, Mike Korizno and Jeff Crawford contained opponents as the deep defensive backs. Baker had 30 tackles and 22 assists; Korizno had 24 tackles and 17 assists; and Crawford had 23 tackles and 12 assists.

Against the passing attack, Dave Baker picked off five interceptions, netting 40 yards returning the ball, his longest return totalling 15 yards. Jeff Crawford contributed 4 interceptions, his longest return for 18 yards; Mike Korizno picked off 2 aerials, returning one for 22 yards. Steve James, Brian Shaffer, Kevin Dock, Tom Snook and Jody Sholley each had one interception during the season.



Cheerleaders Michelle Herman, back, Betsy Johnson, Sue Ray and Pam Pursel encourage defense.

Grapplers With Fighting Spirit

The wrestling team had to fight for their name this year, but showed dragon spirit in their struggle. The matches were rather close and anyone seeing the events shared the team's hopes and anxieties. Mr. Wetzel had a team of strong grapplers in various weight classes as well as various degrees of dedication.

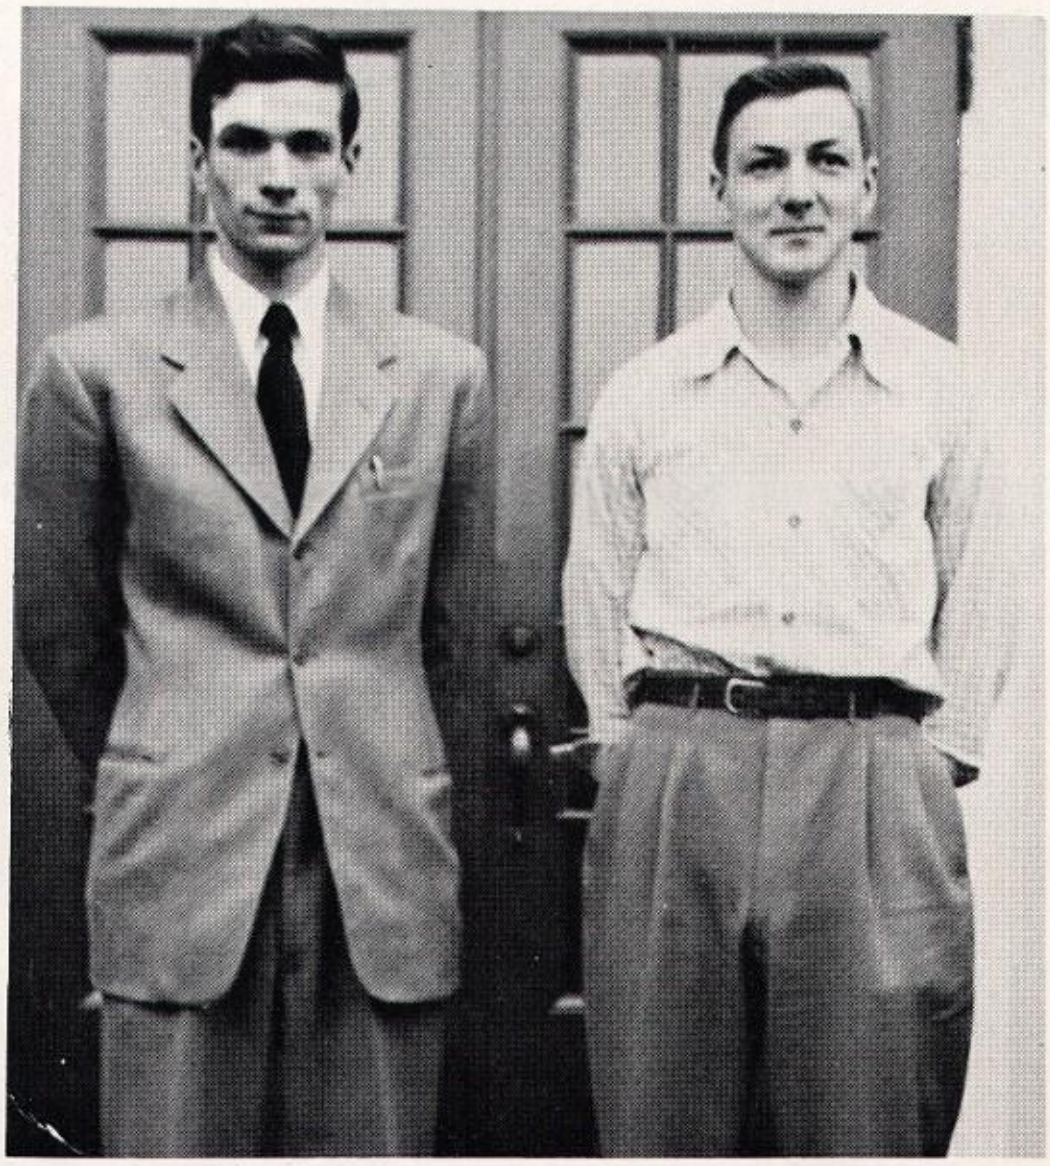
Coach Bill Lane, center back, in 1957, his first year as leader of the Green Dragons accomplished an undefeated season. The Dragons tied twice, were co-champs of the Susquehanna League. He also led Lewisburg in 1964 to an undefeated, untied season. Shown here with Mr. Lane are his assistants, left to right, Charles Reidell, Jim Wetzel, Bill Thomas and Ray Pottios.



Coach Andy Sember, who led the Green Dragons from 1948 to 1956, is shown here with the captain of the 1948 team, Paul Snook.

The Feminine Fling

The feminine side of basketball had consistency behind them this season. Although the record was not very impressive, the team put just as many hours into practice and planning as any other sport. Making sure they played the game right were Miss Minnich coaching the varsity team and Mrs. LeCates coaching the junior varsity team.

HOW THE "WEENY" GOT THAT WAY

by Karl Weist

Throughout the 1974 season, we were blessed by those particular individuals who enjoyed making a spectacle of themselves. To call attention to these personal "performances," some of the more inventive members of the squad established a special award, one which had no trophy, no plaque, no real physical memento. Every three to four weeks, an article would appear in the school paper, Draco, stating the recipient's name and the reasons entitling him to the "high honor."

The award was established following a grueling two-a-day practice. Several members of the team were sitting around the high school watching Jeff Hummel do his special act. Jeff would talk to any female who happened to be standing around. He would perform special spins, dramatic catches or leaps, all designed to impress the opposite sex.

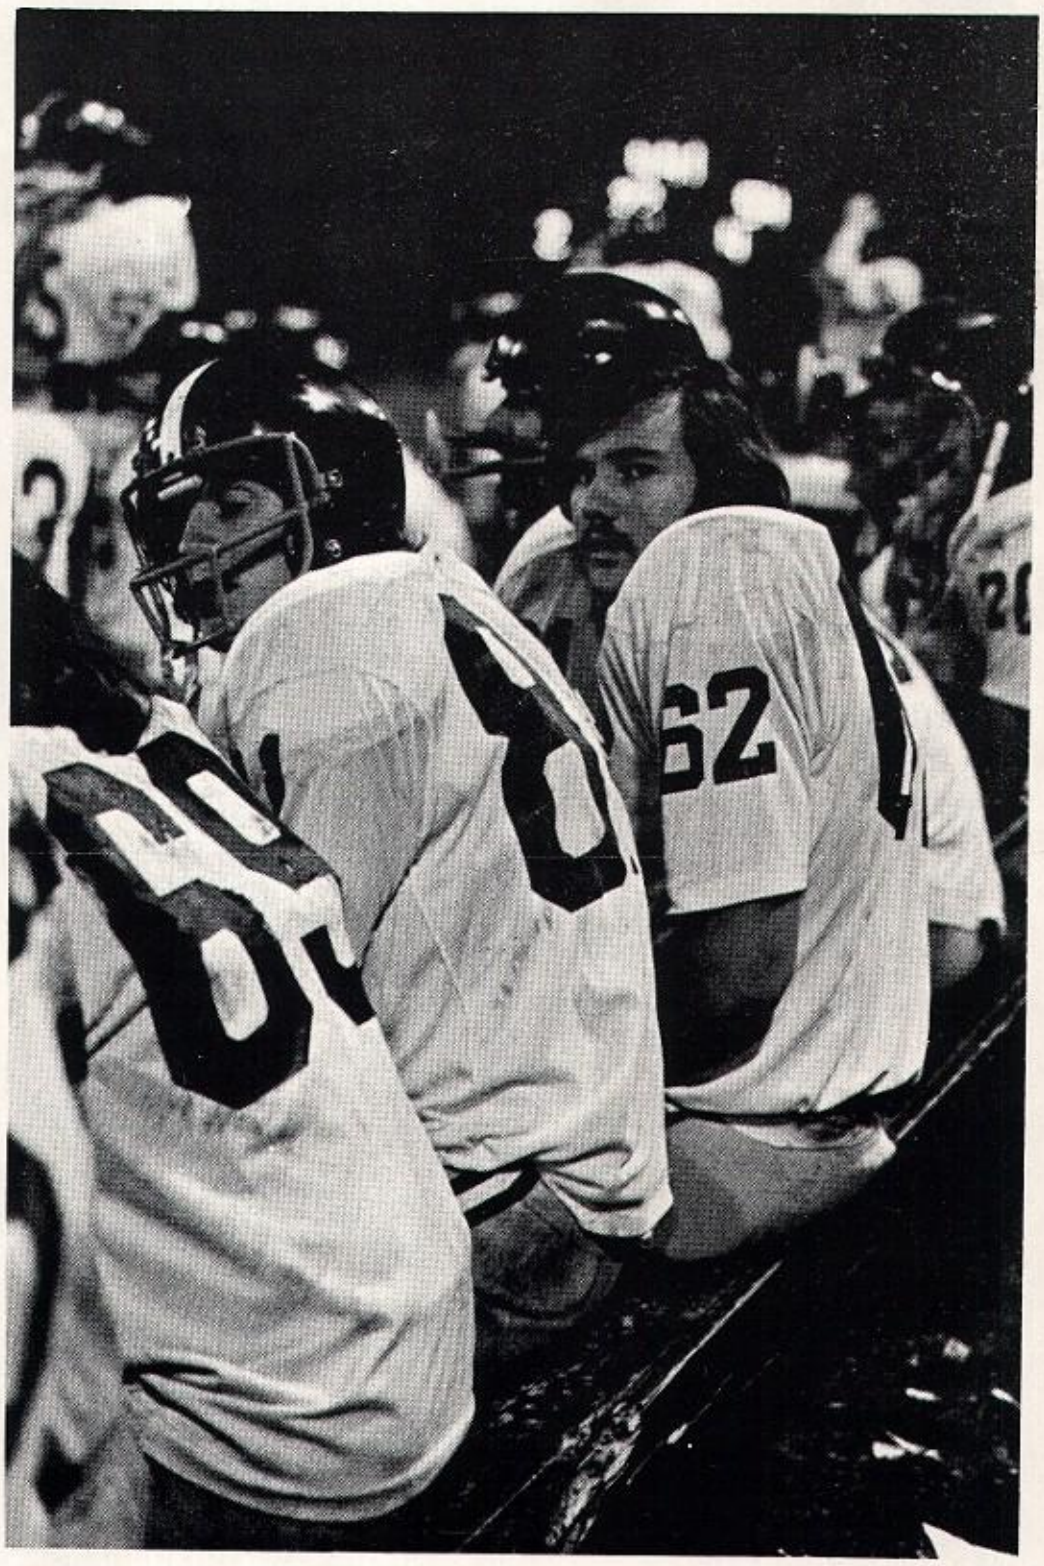
As Tom Snook and Greg Hess watched Jeff, they started calling to him: "Hey, hot dog! You're a real weeny, Hume." Thus the origin of the name. Later, Oscar Meyer was attached to "Weeny" and the full name was born.

Crowd pleasing was not just restricted to "Weeny", or to cavorting for the opposite sex. Sometimes "Weenying" was used to amuse the team, or to irritate the coach. The latter occurred regularly during practice, whenever second offense tried to run a play.

Knowledge of the Weeny had been restricted to the team, but a decision was made to explain it to the public. Tom Snook wrote a story explaining the origin and purpose of the Weeny. It appeared in the school newspaper, Draco, and became a very popular column, so popular in fact that the Weeny became a regular feature of the newspaper.

Nothing was sacred to Snook. Great performances, noted dives, bad plays, odd styles, referees were all Weeny recipients. A semi-popular hero of futility grew out of the Weeny. The performances of the "Burn Brothers" against Montoursville inspired a Weeny for being so thoroughly beaten on several pass patterns. Brian Shaffer received one for his one-handed catches against Loyalsock. Karl Weist got the Weeny for decending on ball-carriers from the sky during the Montgomery game. The referee got a Weeny for attempting to stop South Williamsport and Lewisburg from playing by calling 20 offside penalties. Harry Ammon got a leg up on a Weeny by tripping a Warrior Run player and being thrown out of the game. In the very same game, Chippy Wah-Wah Denius put in his spectacular bid for a Weeny by diving headlong into the bench while coming out of the game.

Yes, nobody was spared, except Tom. He never did get a Weeny, though he deserved one. However, we would like to thank him for adding some levity to this season. We hope the Weeny becomes a tradition in the high school. It keeps some of the guys in their place.



Tom Snook [62] not only led Green Dragons on defense but was the inspired author of "The Weeny Award".

Up by five and in the water by six thirty, requires a real dedication and love of swimming. The members of the swim team possess this, but as is evident from the lack of pictures on this page, the yearbook photographers do not. Jim Williams and Roger Wilson were our only varsity swimmers this year. Others tried, but that five o'clock arisal every morning broke them.

Concert Season

From Vivaldi to Sousa, musicanship is the name of the game. Mr. Dougherty's and Mrs. Dodd's first major concert of the year was in February. This included the concert band, chorus, choir, jazz band, and girls' ensemble. All combined to produce a pleasurable evening of music.

A Most Exquisite Production

"Where's Charley?" ended a decade of outstanding spring musicals and began the spring on a light-hearted note. Rick Rose, masquerading as his Brazilian aunt, Connie Liggett, fancy-stepped his way into some wild love affairs, and finally secured the hand of the immortal Amy, played by Sandy Allen.

While getting involved himself, Charley's roommate, Phil Riggs, can't help but fall in love with Kitty, portrayed by Kim McClure. Mark Pacala and Zimmy added a comical feature in their passionate pursuit of Charley. The production could never have hoped to have been a success without the combined efforts of the cast, pit band and technical staff. But a special thanks to Mr. Mummey and Mr. Letteer, our directors.

The 1973 Junior-Senior Prom, sponsored by the Junior class and held at the Holiday Inn, was one of the best proms Lewisburg has seen. The "Versatilles" supplied the background sound for dancing and gossip in a Polynesian Paradise setting. Sue Abbott brightened the room with her radiant smile as she was crowned Prom Queen. Looking quite royal, she glided through the queen's dance with her escort, Jeff Hummel. The mood was mellow and in the tropical atmosphere created a memorable occasion.

"Let's get moving and meet that deadline. We're so close!" pleads Mr. Libby "the pusher". With the motivation in these monumental words, the tangle of pictures and papers were slowly and painfully molded into the pages of the yearbook. Headaches, aggravation, and late night hours prevailed throughout the year, but were usually alliviated by our constant and ludicrous humor. Finally, swamped by empty pizza plates and with our sanity all but gone, the Oneida was completed. A pat on the back well deserved!

No matter how parliamentary or liberal a student government becomes, tradition still plays a large role. This year's council was no acception, as they discovered half way through the year. Due to an unfortunate recurrance of events, student council's progress was halted for the re-election of representatives. This was not, however, a time-consuming snag for it emphasized that a procedure set up for the well being of the represented students, must be followed. Despite the barriers council encountered, they made some beneficial proposals, one of which was open campus for the seniors.

The most courageous and at times outrageous look into the school community and its members was undertaken by the staff of "Draco", the school newspaper. Many a sacred cow had its day on the chopping block, as the paper questioned the attitudes and policies within LAHS. Meanwhile, back at the Daily Planet, the Jimmy Olsens and Lois Lanes hammered out news of what was happening in and around the school.

History Repeats Itself Itself Itself

The hundreds of people were gathered together on the gentle slope. Their voices mingled and an unharmonious atmosphere of mindless babbling spread throughout the expanse. Of the hundreds, no two were identical; each person was different in dress or in looks and thus a mixture of colors and features was created.

At the foot of the slope was a small rise, on which about one hundred well-muscled warriors were seated. They were all clad in nearly identical uniforms whose colors represented the concept all the warriors fought for. The differences in size, features, or design of costume seemed slighted by the overwhelming sameness of colors.

Behind these warriors twenty well-formed girls performed. They were clad in the same colors, but the girl's costumes revealed many more charms. Gaily they twirled and swirled to the music provided by the group which sat at the far end of the rise.

Each member of the group behind the tantalizing females was either blowing into, or beating upon some device. When all of the members were using their respective devices, a rythmic, almost harmonic sound issued out and tried to overcome the sounds of voices.

A sudden shifting of illunination occurred and a hot light blazed forth from the rise. Silence replaced the previous noise as the motion of the girls ceased. Those sitting on the slope shifted about impatiently.

A tall lean form garbed in conservative garments walked onto the rise while all eyes followed. The light spilled over him, revealing the thin face of a male. He turned and faced the gathering.

"Brothers and sisters," he cried, "we are gathered here to send our representatives off to battle in our name. Let's show them our support..."

The glazed eyes of the crowd turned toward the girls. Spittle dripped down the chins of many of the spectators.

"What are we gonna do?" the girls screamed.

"Kill!" the crowd retorted.

"Louder!" the girls cried.

"KILL!" the crowd returned.

"LOUDER!" the girls pleaded, hysteria in their voices.

"KILL, KILL, KILL!" the gathering bellowed.

When the fury of sound died down, the figure of a burly man mounted the rise and was greeted by cheers.

"As the overseer of our forces, allow me to introduce the captians for the next battle", said he, "Joe Jock and Hercules Peabrain!"

The announcement of these names was followed by more senseless screaming.

Two burly men with sloping foreheads rose to their feet and waited for the clamorto die down.

"We've been training real hard for this battle," one of the two said, "and we want...no, we are going to win!"

The crowd shieked their approval.

"We're gonna stain the field with the blood of our opponents!" the other captain cried.

Once again the crowd screamed in agreement.

The two captains resumed their sitting position as the figure of a man dressed in the colors of the opposition was dragged onto the rise. The crowd hissed at first, but the hissing turned into shrieks of delight as the throat of the new arrival was cut. His blood flowed freely beneath the feet of the girls.

The gathering shouted their pleasure until they could shout no more.

The form of the lean young man reappeared.

"Thank you for coming," he said, "but remember, we need your support. Now, what are we going to do in the battle?"

"KILL! KILL! KILL!"

And the mindless cries of the crowd echoed throughout the halls as they fled from the pep rally.

Zeller, M. Condon, M. Meslener, T. Murphy, V. Alford

The beginning of the year kept the choir and chorus busy with the Thanksgiving service in the Lutheran Church, the tree-lighting ceremony in town, and a cancelled Christmas assembly. The choir alone has sung at a Hannukkah party in Sunbury and at the Catholic Church. Mrs. Dodd holds high aspirations for her troup of singers. Her plans include a singing workshop at Susquehanna University, an exchange concert with Pequea Valley, and the production of "HMS Pinifore."

BOYS QUARTET: J. Steffy, R. Rose, M. Zimmerman, T. Brzeskiewicz.

GIRLS ENSEMBLE: K. McClure, S. Mahon, C. Tolbert, T. Dieffenderfer, V. Martin, D. Liggett, L. Freed, N. Rheam, M. Zeller. Missing from picture: V. Andstadt, C. Voss.

1975 Co-Captains

GREEN DRAGONS 1975

by Karl Weist

Only two starters return to man the 1975 Green Dragon squad, Jody Sholley and Bill Wagner, both linemen, and so the primary problem the Dragons face is inexperience. However, Lewisburg has had to face this problem before. The 1973 squad had all but two starting players graduate, and they went on to win a championship. The future could be just as bright for the 1975 Dragons.

In many ways, this year's squad could be compared to that of 1973. When they were J.V.'s both squads went undefeated, compilng 7-0 records. Both J.V. squads had tough games against Loyalsock, South Williamsport and Penns Valley, but emerged victorious in the end.

Like the 1973 team, the 1975 Dragons have several fine running backs: Brad Richardson, Tim Bingaman, Ken Deddo. Richardson gained 461 yards through the seven-game J.V. season, and he averaged 7.3 yards per carry. Deddo gained 287 yards and averaged 6.4 yards per carry. Bingaman averaged 4.0 yards per carry. Should any of these three falter, two capable backups, John Gray and Chuck Meachum, should be called into action.

Very similar to the 1973 team, this squad has men of talent, size and know-how. Team captains Jody Sholley, Rich Stover and Bill Wagner head the list of workhorse linemen which include Bob Kratzer, Mike Kifolo, Dave Hassenplug, Steve Anderson, defensive end John Arbogast and Mike Rote.

Underclassmen will be called upon to fill the gaps, much like the 1973 team. Ron Kline could occupy one of the linebacker slots. Mike Cortez is a solid end who led the J.V. squad in receptions last year. Ken Newman is a possibility at defensive end. Rod Leitzel could see action at defensive back. Todd Gessner could start at quarterback or defensive back. Richardson is a sure starter at running back. Scott Roadarmel will be one of the leading candidates at quarterback and several other positions.

Several other members of the 1975 squad are certain to see action. Barry Zaizer and Cortez in the defensive secondary, Mike Carrithers at offensive end, and Wally Keefer in the line figure to see considerable action throughout the 1975 campaign.

To mold a championship team from one of such inexperience is going to take a lot of hard and dedicated work. However, it has been done before and this year's squad has the potential of doing it again.

Astronomy Club

ROW ONE: C. Lu, J. Hector, B. Heine, R. Ricker, C. Reese, R. Miller, B. Pursel. ROW TWO: F. Chase, B. Miller, D. Vargas, K. Wiest, J. Stahl, S. Pacala, P. Strickland, D. Sachse, A. Hendrickson, Mr. Chambers.

Formed only at the beginning of the year, the astronomy club is off to a terrific start. The club has provided interested students with a better understanding of the universe around us. With their own bulletin board, they also keep the entire school informed concerning celestial events. Mr. Chambers, their advisor, has large plans for the club, including field trips.

Chess Club

ROW ONE: C. Pepperman, M. Hendricks, T. Hess, J. Cummings, J. Johnson, B. Gregg, M. Lahout, J. Gallicano, E. Kemmer. ROW TWO: S. Mincemoyer, P. Berdell, S. Gass, F. Chase, S. Hartung, J. Hoffman, J. Machamer, E. Winslow, M. Mahalsky, B. Caldwell, J. Steffy, D. Petti. ROW THREE: M. Cansler, J. Heim, D. Feaster, D. Sterry, P. Singh. ROW FOUR: A. Boyer, T. Brezeskiwicz, C. Sones, R. Henry, J. Stockdale, B. Kauffman, B. Poynter, G. Wulczyn, K. Beadling, M. Dougherty.

One of the school's more intellectual additions, the chess club is now in its second year. Student interest was first generated after the historical chess match between Fischer and Spassky. Up to now, it has only been active in intraschool competition, but under the noble guidance of Mr. Snyder, the team may be playing other schools by the end of 1974. Top players this year included Andy "Fischer" Boyer, Chip "Evans" Sones, and Rick "Spassky" Henry.

The cheerleaders have always put something extra into school spirit, and this year was no different. Cheerleading began last year with tryouts leading to the dreaded summer practice. At summer camp they earned the "Spark Plug" award for their enthusiasm. Their hard work and long hours after school paid off with the regeneration of school spirit. Miss Messner, their advisor, saw the girls through a very successful year of sports.

JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADERS: V. Lewis, K. Glock, L. Erdley, A. Hassenplug, P. Pursel, B. Johnson, C. Lu, D. Reese, D. Adams.

LHS Rabble Rousers

The Pep Club has worked in cooperation with the cheerleaders and the student body in raising the school's spirit. Coming in nights prior to the rampageous pep rallies, they plaster the walls with signs of spirit and pictures of Libby. They help the cheerleaders produce fire in the students, so that every Friday in the fall the school runs amuck!

ROW ONE: L. Fisher, M. Henry, M. Cansler, B. Gregg, P. Mull. ROW TWO: A. Chabal, S. Bingaman, P. Berdell, C. Reese, K. Herander, A. Hassenplug, B. Bird, J. Hunter, D. Brown. ROW THREE: L. Future Homemakers of America

The Future Homemakers of America is a national organization with a chapter active in LHS for over 25 years. Setting a different goal every year, the girls are striving for increased membership and involvement. Each member decides on a project that will have a positive impact on the world around her. Mrs. Kenamond supervises this worthy group.

ROW ONE: D. Snyder, M. Fertig, K. Metzger, M. Stahl. ROW TWO: V. Alford, B. Kling, K. Wagner. ROW THREE: S. Boob, K. Threet, K. Deddo, Mr. Kessler.

Pot Hooks

The purpose of the Pot Hooks Club is to attain and sustain shorthand speed. Proficiency certificates are awarded to the girls for 60, 80, 100, and 120 words a minute with 95% accuracy. The club meets for two mods every other cycle. Kim Deddo and MaryAnn Driestadt obtained 80 WPM certificates early in the year.

Vocational Technology

Vocational Technology is continuing its fine educational program in training students for work in technical areas. The program has expanded greatly since moving to the new school two years ago, and has become popular among the students. Every other two weeks, the students participating in this outstanding educational opportunity, pursue their interests at the Sun AVTS.

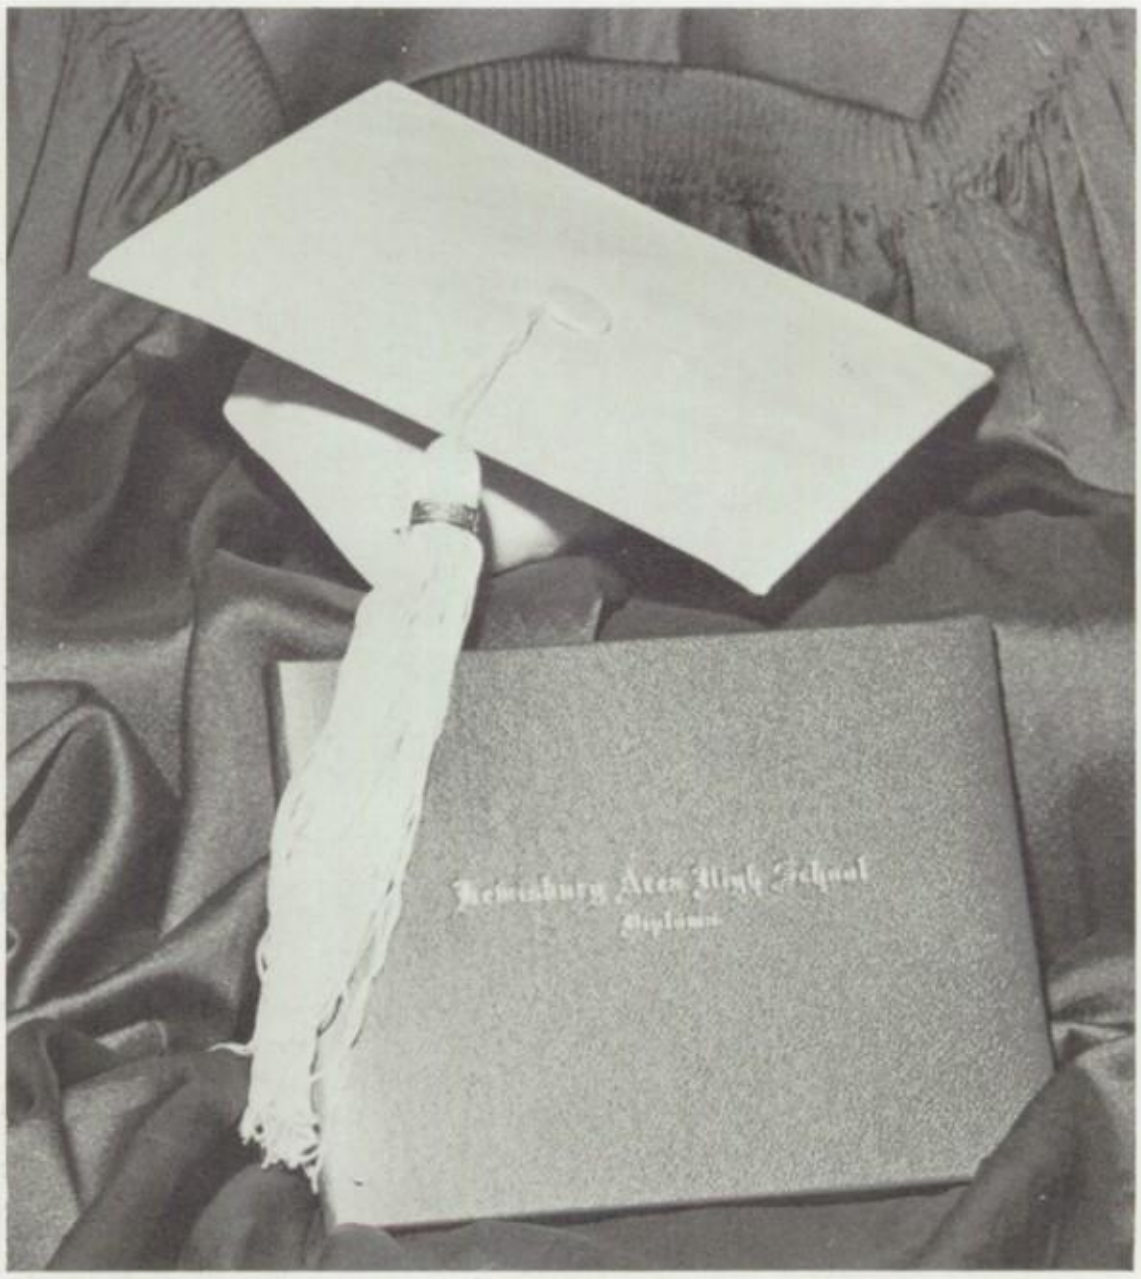
Smiles, Tears, and Memories



The door we dutifully passed through four years ago has closed behind us, leaving the security and the familiar faces we knew in the past. We take with us only the memories of experiences, both enlightening and heartbreaking, both rewarding and humiliating. Before us towers the next door; the diverse and yet uncertain paths of our lives lying beyond it. As we stand between two worlds, we glance back and remember, but then look to the future with anticipation. We leave, wiser now, and more capable of opening the next door before us on our own.
